ANDERSON LEADING; WISHART NEXT IN RUN OF 301 MILES

Twelve Cars Get Away in Annual Grind Over Eight-Mile Track for the Elgin National Trophy

GREAT CROWDS DRAWN BY DANGER ELEMENTS

Five Men Who Drove Yesterday for Five Hours at Mile-a-Minute Clip Trying to Repeat Performance

(By Associated Press.)

ELGIN, Ill., Aug. 30.—The automobile race for the Elgin trophy today, with 100 miles, or a third of the distance covered, developed one of the closest and fastest road races ever run in this country. The leaders were making 72 miles an hour and frequently better, with Anderson in a State, leading.

Twelve cars started and at the 100th mile only sixteen minutes separated the leader from Grant, the rear-ender. Haupt, Burman and Bergdoll were only seconds apart and third place was always shifting. That the previous record of 68.1 would fall, was regarded as a certainty.

Standing and elapsed time at 100 miles:

Driver.	Elapsed Time.
Anderson	1:22:27
Wishart	1:26:45
Mulford	1:26:20
Haupt	1:27:24
Burman	1:27:39
Bergdoll	1:27:56
DePalma	1:29:46
Dawson	1:32:24
W. Endicott	1:32:51
Grant	1:38:51

Burman retired with a cracked cylinder after running 167 miles.

The greater throng was attracted, perhaps, by the added elements of danger. Five, who drove their racers at a mile a minute speed for nearly five hours yesterday, started out to repeat their performance.

Rickenbacker went into a ditch shortly after starting and was out with a broken axle. Wishart took the lead in the lap in 6:35. Wishart drove the first twenty-five miles at the rate of 75.3 miles per hour.

LOSES TO SAVE ANOTHER.

At thirty-five miles Wishart had to change tires on the course and lost the lead to Anderson. Mulford took second and Wishart third.

Rickenbacker went into the ditch purposely to avoid hitting Endicott's car, which skidded just in front of his. He escaped with bruises.

AT FIFTY MILES.

At fifty miles Anderson led, driving about seventy-two miles per hour. The standing was:

Anderson, 41 minutes, 24 seconds; Mulford, 43:19; Burman, 43:52; Haupt, 44:08; Wishart, 44:35; Bergdoll, 44:44; DePalma, 44:56; Grant, 45:06; Dawson, 45:14; W. Endicott, 45:57; Henning (on twenty-fifth miles.)

Rickenbacher went into a ditch to avoid a skidding car. He was out.

Henning went into a ditch with a broken steering knuckle on his fortieth mile and was counted out of the race. He was unhurt.

STABBED TO DEATH FOR WHIPPING OWN DAUGHTER

Boarder Interferes. When Author Seeks to Chastise 17-Year-Old Girl

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—William L. Altdorfer, a special writer and author, was stabbed to death last night in his home in Chevy Chase, Md., a suburb, and William J. Fisher, connected with the isthmian canal commission, and for ten years a boarder in the Altdorfer home, early today was arrested and taken to the county jail at Rockville.

The tragedy, according to the police, resulted from Fisher's interference when Altdorfer sought to chastise his 17-year-old adopted daughter.

EIGHT MEET DEATH WHEN BIG BOILERS OF TOWBOAT BURST

Six Others Are Injured in Early Morning Accident in Ohio River Near Pittsburg—Cause Not Yet Known

SOME OF BODIES HAVE NOT BEEN RECOVERED

Pilot's Craft Was Near Dam No. 2 at Pittsburg When Accident Occurred — Captain Loses His Life

(By Associated Press.)

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 30.—Captain Thomas Flaherty, Pilot Harry Donaldson and six of the crew of the towboat Alice, were killed this morning and six other rivermen were injured when the boat's boilers exploded. Some of the bodies were recovered and the injured were brought to the marine hospital here by the steamer Harriet, which happened to be near the accident scene in the Ohio river dam No. 2 at Coraopolis, Pa.

The Alice was towing a fleet of barges and was within a thousand feet of the lock when the boilers let go. The men who were not instantly killed or so badly injured that they were unable to move, made their way forward but so quickly did the boat settle that within ten minutes after the explosion nothing but her stacks were above the water and the survivors were struggling in the stream.

Boats put off from shore and the injured were rescued as the Harriet steamed up. Of the crew of fourteen men no one is known to have escaped either death or injury.

Later in the day the body of Mrs. Mills, a chambermaid, was recovered from the shattered hull of the craft. One of the boilers was located in the sand in Melville island, fully 1,600 feet from the scene of the explosion.

HELD FOR MURDER OF HIS WIFE AND NIECE

William Cook, Accused of Clubbing Women to Death, Taken to Nashville

(By Associated Press.)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 30.—The preliminary hearing of William Cook, the Rutherford county farmer, arrested yesterday on the charge of murdering his wife, Mrs. Margie Cook, and her niece, Lucy Stanford, Monday night near Smyrna, will take place at Murfreesboro Wednesday. In the meantime Cook remains in jail here, though a county officers being fearful of mob violence. The people there have been deeply aroused by the brutality of the slayer of the two women, who were clubbed to death.

While no motive has yet been definitely fixed, the officers think now the murders followed a bitter family quarrel.

Cook was reared in the vicinity of Smyrna, but has lived in Nashville, working for the street railway and later running a saloon. During the St. Louis during the street railway strike, remaining there a year, going thence to Chicago and working on the street railway. He was there nine years. The Cooks had been married four years.

Cook was arrested yesterday afternoon at Smyrna, Tenn., on a warrant sworn out by Sheriff Rhodes, of Rutherford county. The crime was committed last Monday night at the Cook home, three miles from Smyrna. Cook, for fear of mob violence, was hurried to Nashville, and lodged in the Davidson county jail for safe keeping.

The arrest followed four days of vigilant search by Sheriff Rhodes and his deputies and other officers, as well as residents of the neighborhood for the weapon which the deed was committed. This afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock a hickory bludgeon, smeared with blood, was discovered in the Cook stable and the arrest followed immediately. Cook protested his innocence and at first demanded a preliminary hearing before the coroner's jury, which was in session.

However, at the earnest request of Attorney General W. S. Faulkner, who was present and who feared mob violence, he waived examination and was hurried away in a taxicab, which had been held in waiting.

Shortly afterwards the coroner's jury brought in a verdict in which they found that the two women came to their death from the effects of blows administered by a heavy blunt instrument under circumstances pointing to the guilt of William F. Cook.

The crime was one of the bloodiest in the history of the state. The room in which the dead women were discovered was stained with blood and bore evidences of a desperate struggle. Cook reported at the home at 6 o'clock Monday morning, and claimed that he had attended church the night before and on awakening found his wife dead in the room adjoining the one in which he had slept, while her niece was dead on the porch, just outside the door.

Jailed Girl Appeals To Wilson for Permit To Dress as a Man

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—From a jail cell today Elizabeth Trondle, a Brooklyn girl, appealed by letter to President Wilson to issue her a permit to dress as a man.

"If I can appear as a man and do a man's work, I shall be more respected and better paid," she wrote. "It's no crime for a female to wear male attire, yet I am locked up in jail because I did so."

Miss Trondle, arrested for masquerading as a man, had been working in male attire at a book bindery. She claimed that because of her dress she received far better wages than a woman. She refused to promise to dress like a woman hereafter.

STRATEGIC MOVE BY NEW YORK STATE TO NAB THAW REPORTED

Immigration Officers Hustle Back to Sherbrooke on Strength of Rumor of New Writ of Habeas Corpus

JUDGE'S RETURN PUTS BOTH SIDES ON JUMP

Thaw's Lawyers Apparently Believe Him Secure in Jail and That He Won't Be Summoned Into Court

(By Associated Press.)

SHERBROOKE, Quebec, Aug. 30.—Harry K. Thaw will be produced in court here again on Tuesday morning next on a writ of habeas corpus obtained today on behalf of Chief of Police Boudreau, of Coaticook, who arrested him after his flight from Matteawan.

Superior Judge Hutchinson granted the writ on the application of Samuel Jacobs, chief counsel for the New York state interests. It was an eleventh hour move taken to defeat Thaw's lawyers, who have succeeded in keeping him in jail, safe from the immigration authorities.

Those of the Thaw lawyers who were in town, Charles D. White and Harry Faser, bitterly opposed the application but Judge Hutchinson said he would thresh the matter out in court at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Thaw was ignorant of today's developments. His lawyers even did not learn of it until a report of the contemplated move, sent out last night, was telegraphed back from Montreal. His chief lawyer, R. N. Greensbields, immediately chartered a special train at Montreal in the hope of checking the proceedings. The writ had been issued, however, before his arrival.

Boudreau asked for the writ on the ground that as the original captor of Thaw, he might be liable to damages should Thaw's arrest prove illegal.

W. T. Jerome, who worked out this latest attack, was jubilant. He hopes the writ will be sustained and that on Tuesday Thaw will be in the hands of the department of immigration for deportation to Vermont.

William Travers Jerome, commander-in-chief of the New York forces, was up before 8 o'clock this morning conferring with Samuel Jacobs, the attorney representing the state.

It was Mr. Jacobs who was ruled out of court by Superior Judge Robenesky and it was Jacobs, returning to Montreal last night, who was informed by telegraph of Judge Hutchinson's return. He jumped from the train at Magog, a small station near Sherbrooke, returned here by automobile, and laid his plan before Jerome and Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy.

Thaw's lawyers, secure in the belief that their client would be safe in jail after their action in getting their own habeas corpus writ, retired early, ignorant of the reported new move to get him in court today. Thaw knew nothing of it.

Judge Hutchinson reached his chambers shortly after 10 o'clock. Meantime the Thaw lawyers had been told of the affair and hurried to the court house.

Pittsburg Court Decides Thaw Still Is Insane

(By Associated Press.)

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 30.—Judges Miller and Trimble, in orphans' court here today refused immediate consideration of a petition filed by counsel for Harry Thaw and asking that his trustee, the Fidelity Title and Trust company, of Pittsburg, be permitted to pay him $10,000 of the $600,000 of his estate.

"This court will take judicial notice that the petitioner is adjudged insane in New York and we cannot see how we can make any decree in his favor in view of his standing in the sister state," said Judge Miller.

The application will be argued before the entire bench of the orphans' court next week. Counsel for Thaw made it plain that a part of the funds desired was to be used by Thaw in fighting the courts of Allegheny county pass upon the question of his sanity and the remainder was to pay the lawyers now working in his behalf in Canada.

Manufacturer from Florida Weds Cordele Girl Visiting Atlanta

Bayless W. Hynes, vice president of the Wilson & Toomer Fertilizer company, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Miss Annie Williams, of a prominent Cordele family, were quietly married in Atlanta Saturday morning. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the Rev. A. M. Hughley, of 570 Spring street, pastor of St. Marks Methodist church.

Mr. Haynes left Jacksonville Friday morning, confiding to only a few intimate friends his mission. The nuptials will be a surprise to many business acquaintances in the Florida city. The couple met by appointment here. Miss Wilson came to Atlanta Friday night.

Mrs. J. B. Sumpter, of Nashville, Tenn., Mr. Haynes' sister, and C. D. McKinney, local agent of the Higgins Screen Manufacturing company, a friend of the groom's, were the only ones present at the ceremony.

The wedding is the culmination of a courtship of several years. Before Mr. Haynes became vice president of the fertilizer company he traveled out of Jacksonville. On one of his trips he met Miss Wilson in Hawkinsville. After that the couple met frequently. About a year ago when Miss Williams was visiting friends in Jacksonville they became engaged.

CITY CAN NOT BAN GUM SLOT MACHINES

It Is Against State Law and Up to State Authorities—City Ordinance Void

Municipal ordinances, relating to offenses already covered by state laws, are void, according to a decision handed down by the state court of appeals Saturday morning.

This decision was based upon a slot machine test case, brought several months ago by T. C. Alexander versus the city of Atlanta. Following a considerable agitation against chewing gum slot machines in near beer saloons, Chief Beavers, acting under directions from Recorder Broyles, gave notice that the machines were gaming devices and that their operation should cease after a certain date.

Alexander decided to make a test of the city ordinance against the keeping of gaming houses, and the operation of games and devices of chance. He failed to obey the chief's order knocking out the slot machines and a case was made against him in police court. Recorder Broyles found him guilty of violating the municipal ordinance and Alexander certiorated the case to the Fulton county superior court.

Judge George L. Bell overruled the certiorari and sustained the judgment of the recorder, whereupon Alexander carried the case to the court of appeals.

The higher court held that the agreed statement of facts disclosed a very plain violation of the state law which forbids the keeping of a gaming house; that the city ordinance is void because the offense is already covered by state law, and that it is not within the power of the municipal court to punish the accused.

The state's statute, says the court of appeals, penalizes playing for anything of value, and the state reserves the sole right to punish offenders, not only in maintenance of its own dignity but also to protect the citizen from being twice placed in jeopardy or being twice punished for the same offense.

By the decision of the court of appeals Alexander will escape the recorder's fine, and unless the state proceeds against him he will escape punishment altogether.

The slot machines operated by Alexander were exactly similar, to hundreds of others which were in operation in near-beer saloons and soft drink places prior to Chief Beavers' order. The player who deposited a nickel in the slot was guaranteed a package of chewing gum and also a chance to win twenty trade checks, which could be exchanged for twenty drinks of beer or other articles kept in stock.

"The instrument itself," says the decision of the court of appeals, "developed the occasion when this profitable return for the investment of a nickel could be received; but naturally there was always in the mind of the player the expectation, when he deposited his nickel, that the next turn of the wheel would bring the indication or the announcement of the coveted twenty trade checks. We agree with counsel for the defendant in error that 'the machine described in the agreed statement of fact is a perfection of invention in concealing its true purpose. As described it might be mistaken for an alms box beside a church door; but it has its fangs.'"

Fire at Columbia, Tenn.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 30.—Columbia, an important town 50 miles south of here, was visited by a disastrous fire at 3:30 o'clock this morning. The damage is estimated at $200,000.

GEORGIA INSURANCE COS. DOING FINE BUSINESS

Both Fire and Life Companies Show Much Progress in Report

Big gains over last year in new business written and premiums collected by Georgia fire and life insurance companies are shown in the annual report compiled in the office of the comptroller general by Deputy Insurance Commissioner John A. Copeland.

The report, given out Saturday morning, covers in full the insurance year ending April 30, 1913. The greatest increase is shown in new business written by Georgia life insurance corporations, the amount for the year being $64,970,506 against $61,687,660 in 1912, or a net gain of $3,282,846.

Aside from this the gain in premiums collected from life insurance policies is approximately half a million dollars. This year $10,801,842 was collected as compared with $10,372,385 in 1912.

The gain in fire insurance premiums collected, while not so large as that for life policies is large enough to indicate the business of Georgia fire companies is growing yearly. For 1912 the total fire premiums collected was $6,177,641 against $5,937,738 for the year previous, showing a net increase of $233,903.

Mr. Copeland has compiled the report in pamphlet form ready for distribution among those in the insurance world of the state.

LORD HALDANE WILL TALK ON ANYTHING BUT MEXICO

Discusses Peace and "Suffs" and Home Rule—To Review Cadets

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A visit to West Point was today's feature on the program of Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor of England, who reached here yesterday for a five days' visit to America. After a reception and luncheon at the home of Colonel Townley, superintendent of the military academy, and a review of the cadets, Lord Haldane expected to leave on a special train for Albany, the second stopping point in his trip from this city to Montreal.

At Montreal Lord Haldane will address the American Bar association on Monday. He plans to return to New York Tuesday night and sail for home Wednesday morning.

In the first interview given newspaper men since his appointment Lord Haldane discussed freely on his arrival the topics of the day, but balked at giving his opinion as to the outcome of the situation in Mexico. He declared for woman suffrage—but not for the militant methods of seeking it—professed home rule for Ireland soon, said he couldn't foresee lasting world-wide peace in the near future and jokingly ventured the opinion that England's great seal, of which he is keeper, was "very safe" in the house of lords during his brief absence.

WOODWARD ROASTS IDEA OF CIRCUS AT PIEDMONT

Says It Would Be "An Infamous Outrage" to Lease Race Track for Such Purpose

When asked Saturday morning what he thought of the proposition to lease the race track in Piedmont Park to Barnum & Bailey's circus for a performance on October 27, Mayor Woodward came back with a reply that was quick and unequivocal.

"I think," said he, "that it would be an infamous outrage to let a circus show in Piedmont Park.

"The proposition is so preposterous that I can't imagine the park board or anybody else taking it seriously. But if they do consider it seriously, and go so far as to grant the circus permission I will do all in my power to stop it. I am going to the park board meeting Tuesday afternoon and oppose the proposition, as I understand it is coming up at that time."

Continuing Mayor Woodward said: "What have we got parks for—to provide a show place for circuses? Why, if that big outfit camped one day in Piedmont park they'd do more damage in that short time than the park department could repair in years. They would tear down trees, shrubs, flowers and grass that it has taken the park department years to plant and develop. Just imagine a circus going in there, and fifteen or twenty thousand people of all classes and of both colors tramping over the park to get into the tent. Wouldn't the park be in a beautiful condition when it was all over?

"The circus advance agent met me on the street Friday and spoke to me about it, and I told him virtually the same thing I'm saying now. When a circus leaves a lot, that lot looks like the wrath of God had been visited upon it. There's nothing left but the bare earth, and it's generally reduced to a fine powder.

"There's plenty of old fields around Atlanta where the circus can show. If not, let them move on. Because Jack Prince happens to have built a motordrome on the old circus lot doesn't make it incumbent upon the city to furnish the circus with a place to show. If we've got no better use for Piedmont park than to rent it out to circuses, then we might as well cut it up into residence lots and have an auction sale."

House Falls on Man; He's So Bruised He'll Be A-bed Till Monday

(By Associated Press.)

FLINT, Mich., Aug. 30.—Alderman Fred Behrendt had a house fall on him yesterday.

He confined to his home until Monday. He sustained several bruises.

The alderman's two-story home, supported on one side by cedar posts, is located on a hillside. Recent heavy rains undermined the posts and Thursday the house began to slide slightly downward. Yesterday it moved again, so Mr. Behrendt decided to anchor it more securely. Armed with jackscrews, he crawled under the building, placed the screws in position and turned one—then it happened.

The house slid forward and Behrendt was pinned against a pile of debris. He screamed. His wife rushed out, seized a shovel and tried to extricate her husband. Failing, she called the police and sounded a general alarm.

It took an hour and a half to dig out Behrendt. His rescuers said his escape from instant death was miraculous.

After Behrendt was turned over to a physician the house was pushed back to where it belonged.

POCKETBOOK EMPTY, HUERTA MUST LISTEN TO WILSON DEMANDS

President Knows This and Is Allowing a Few Days for the Predicament to "Soak in" Huerta's Mind

BLOODY BATTLE RAGES BETWEEN REBS AND FEDS

Southern Methodist Church Orders Its Missionaries to Leave the Battle-Infested Country

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Before President Wilson left Washington for his summer home in New Hampshire, he said he was going to let the Mexican situation rest a few days in order that it might "soak in" on the de facto Mexican government.

The right meaning of the "soak in" phrase is revealed in diplomatic circles here today. It means that the president is going to test the remaining shreds of the financial credit of the Huerta government to the utmost before he makes reply to the last note received from that government. The president's information is that Huerta is so hard up that it is likely to be a matter of merely a few days until he is in such a position that he will have to listen to reason. This, it appears, is the ground upon which the administration officials here have been so optimistic that an agreement would be reached with Huerta.

In the same connection it is stated today that Huerta's plea for delay when he was informed that President Wilson proposed to place the situation before congress, was due to the negotiations Huerta then had pending for a loan. As long as he could keep secret the nature of the diplomatic dickerings with President Wilson through John Lind, the nature of the demands made by Mr. Wilson, Huerta believed he had a chance for his loan. It is asserted that up to the time the president read his message to congress, Huerta was engaged in leading his financial backers to believe that the negotiations with the United States had in view the recognition of the Huerta government.

President Wilson, knowing this or having good reason to suspect it, determined to force Huerta's hand. Therefore, he read the message to congres and revealed to the world that he never would agree to recognize Huerta as constitutional president of Mexico. This was a death blow to all of Huerta's hopes of making the loan of any size. He therefore was compelled to take the other horn of the dilemma and appeal to popular sentiment in Mexico. He did this by making public all the correspondence with Mr. Lind. The notes from Huerta to Mr. Gamboa, to Lind are said to carry even a sharper degree of insolence and sarcasm in the Spanish than in translation.

The publication of these notes has added materially to the political popularity of Huerta among Mexicans, according to the advices here. But this administration believe it has made it utterly impossible for Huerta to borrow a cent from anybody outside of Mexico, and very little from anybody in Mexico, unless he compels a loan by force. Therefore, the president is letting Huerta's predicament "soak in." He has reason to believe a few days will bring the Mexican leader to a pass where he will have to agree to an attempt at an armistice on President Wilson's terms or face the annihilation of his own government by the Mexican regular army, made desperate and mutinous by Huerta's failure to pay the soldiers.

Constitutionalists and Federals in Battle

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Aug. 30.—A battle between Mexican federal and constitutionalist troops of Sinaloa is raging near Toptiobamaco, according to advices received at Junta headquarters here today.

The message said 1,000 federals were engaged by the state troops shortly after the Huerta forces disembarked from a transport Thursday.

Diaz Declares He Is Out for the Presidency

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 30.—"I am now definitely a candidate for the office of president of Mexico," declared Felix Diaz, who recently arrived here from Canada, told the Associated Press this morning.

"My friends in Mexico are working in my behalf," continued General Diaz. "Unfortunately, at this distance, I myself am unable to do much, but I am awaiting instructions which may simplify matters.

"Even if I am ordered to proceed to Japan, it is not certain that I shall go there. My action will depend upon developments in Mexico."

Felix Diaz apparently is pleased with the course of events in Mexico. He said the contention that Victoriano Huerta's candidacy for the presidency was barred by the Mexican constitution was quite correct. He declared the fact that he was still an official representative of the Mexican government debarred him from discussing President Wilson's message or the Mexican replies.

Church Orders Methodist Missionaries Out of Mexico

(By Associated Press.)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 30.—In line with President Wilson's recent message, the mission board of the Southern Methodist church has ordered its missionaries out of Mexico. Telegrams to this effect have been sent to the six missionary centers there. On a peace footing the church maintains 46 missionaries there but at present only about 25 are in the field. A number of these have replied asking to be allowed to remain. No action has been taken on such requests.

The southern Presbyterian board has not yet issued orders. This church has eleven missionaries, but only five are in the field.

POSTMEN GATHER IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

Letter Carriers' Association Meets With Women's Auxiliary at Frisco

(By Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—With more than 1,000 delegates and visitors here for the meeting, the nineteenth convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers opened today.

Officers and many delegates of the women's auxiliary also are on hand for their work.

Two issues which directly concern both organizations were to be considered today. One relates to the re-rating of the older members of the postmen's order; the other the admission of women of the auxiliary to the mutual benefit association and making them eligible to hold insurance policies, with the same privileges as the mail carriers.

The board of trustees of the carriers' association, sitting yesterday as the directors of the endurance branch, determined to force these two matters to a speedy settlement.

Other problems, which will come before this convention are: Proposed affiliation of the carriers with the American Federation of Labor policy of the association respecting the retirement of letter carriers and the policy to be pursued as to the bills introduced in congress by Senator Kern, of Indiana, and Representative McGillcuddy, of Maine, providing for compensation to cariers while on duty.

NEW YORK WOMEN FIRST TO CLIMB MOUNT WASHINGTON

At Dead of Night, With High Wind Blowing, Two Women Reach Summit Alone

(By Associated Press.)

BRETON WOODS, N. H., Aug. 30.—Climbing to the summit of Mount Washington over the dangerous trestle of the mountain railway late at night, Mrs. W. G. Henford and Mrs. Beatrice Recknadel, of New York, accomplished a feat never before undertaken, it is said, by women. The ascent was made as the result of a wager.

With a high wind blowing and no lights to guide, the task of the climbers in crossing over the loft Jacobs' Ladder trestle was regarded as extremely perilous. As soon as railroad officials heard that they had started up the mountain, men with lanterns were sent after them to dissuade them from the attempt but were unable to overtake them until they were close to the summit.

The two women reached the mountain top about 10 o'clock, having covered the distance of five miles in four hours and a half. They remained at the house there until morning, when Mrs. Henford's husband arrived in his motor car and took them back to their hotel.

NEW MEETING DATE FOR WALKER COUNTY COURT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

ROME, Ga., Aug. 30.—An important change in the terms of Walker county superior court of the Rome judicial circuit will be made after the close of the recent term. Instead of the semi-annual terms that has been the practice for a number of years, the superior court terms will be held quarterly, that is, on the third Monday in February, May, August and November. The grand jury will meet only twice a year, in February and August as at present, unless the presiding judge should deem sessions for the May and November terms necessary.

The change is approved by the public generally, and attorneys of the circuit, as it is believed it will expedite litigation, hasten the trial of criminal cases and save a large expense in jail fees.

WILSON DELAYED BY ELECTRICAL STORM

President Missed Connections on Way to Summer Home on Account of Severe Rain

(By Associated Press.)

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 30.—Delayed two hours by the severe electrical storm that swept the Atlantic seaboard last night, the president and Mrs. Wilson passed through here this morning en route to Cornish, N. H., for the week-end.

The president slept soundly notwithstanding the thunder and lightning, while the train moved slowly through a steady downpour of rain. The president missed connections at New Haven and his car was attached as far as Springfield to an excursion special of a German singing society.

DANIELS COMMENDS SEAMEN LIFE SAVERS

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Bravery displayed by R. C. Hawkins, master at arms, and A. S. Alderman, hospital apprentice, both of the cruiser Pittsburg, in rescuing a distressed shipmate off Guaymas, Mexico, prompted Secretary Daniels to send them letters of commendation today.

During a dull period recently all the men of the powder division of the Pittsburg considered good swimmers, were ordered to jump overboard and swim ashore. Among the number was A. Presna, a mess attendant, who suddenly failed and was going down when Hawkins and Alderman swam to his aid.

WAR COLLEGE TRAINING URGED BY GOVERNMENT

Applicants for Officiers' Places Will Be Asked If They Had Such Instruction

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—When naval officers above the grade of lieutenant come up for examination for promotion hereafter, the examining board must ascertain whether the applicant has taken any course of instruction at the naval war college and if so "how long the course was and how fully officers took advantage of their opportunities." An order to this effect was issued by Secretary Daniels today.

While the secretary has not made attendance at the war college a condition of promotion, this direction that the inquiry be made indicates the importance he attaches to the training afforded there.

Ever since his visit to the war college at Newport the secretary has advocated that larger numbers of the officers attend and to make such attendance possible established short courses in addition to those already available.

NAVY MEDICAL MEN ARE WANTED IN CIVIL WORK

Daniels Makes Statement in Regard to Heavy Demands for Naval Doctors

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Demans on the navy for medical officers to fill positions in civil life for which special training is necessary, called for a statement by Secretary Daniels. These calls are numerous, he said, and many of them could not be complied with on account of the shortage in the navy medical corps.

The civil profession, said the secretary, looked to federal sources for knowledge along certain lines not within the scope of duties of the general practitioner. As an example of the diversity of these duties, he pointed to Surgeon General Stokes, who he said, among other positions in the medical world, served as a member of the central council; vice chairman of the war board of the American Red Cross, president of the Society for Social Hygiene, lecturer at the naval war college here, fellow and member of the board of regents of the American College of Surgeons and fellow of the American Surgical association.

Numerous other illustrations were given of medical officers who are engaged in outside work as lecturers and teachers and as *officers in various so*cieties, doing highly specialized work.

WOMEN CABBIES DO NOT FLOURISH IN GAY PAREE

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, Aug. 30.—Women cab drivers are fast disappearing from the streets of Paris. Six years ago they numbered fully one hundred; now there are only six or seven and of these all but one soon will give up the calling.

The one who means to remain has given various reasons for the disfavor with which her sex regards cab driving. At first men rushed for vehicles driven by women and tipped generously; but that was when reviews and songs were advertising the new departure. One cab woman says she makes not more than six or seven francs a day, out of which she has to pay a woman to look after her household.

BAILIFF KILLS LAD FLEEING BOARD BILL

East Point Boy Lacked Fifty Cents of Account—Bailiff Held for Murder

(By Associated Press.)

COLUMBUS, Ga., Aug. 30.—Luther Hawkins, a lad about eighteen years old, was shot and killed Friday afternoon by Bailiff I. Willis in North Highlands as he was fleeing from the officer. The officer is held at police headquarters charged with murder.

"I wouldn't have done this for a million dollars," he said last night.

Hawkins came here a day or two ago from East Point, near Atlanta, to seek employment in a cotton mill. When settling his board bill Friday afternoon he lacked 50 cents of the required amount and the bailiff was sent for. Hawkins ran out of the yard and the officer gave pursuit. He fired at the fleeing lad with a pistol, the bullet crashing through his head. The boy died in less than half an hour without regaining consciousness. The bailiff declares he was merely "shooting in the air" to frighten the lad.

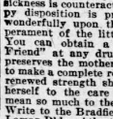
Men Welcome Mother's Friend

A Duty that Every Man Owes to Those who Perpetuate the Race.

It is just as important that men should know of progressive methods in advance of motherhood. The suffering incident to child-bearing can be easily avoided by having at hand a bottle of Mother's Friend.



This is a penetrating, external application that relieves all tension upon the muscles and enables them to expand without painful strain upon the ligaments. Thus there is avoided nervous spells; the tendency to nausea or morning sickness is counteracted, and a bright, happy disposition is preserved that reflects wonderfully upon the charcter and temperament of the little one soon to come. You can obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at any drug store at $1.00. It preserves the mother's health, enables her to make a complete recovery, and thus with renewed strength she will eagerly devote herself to the care and attention which mean so much to the welfare of the child. Write to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 229 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their valuable and instructive book of guidance for expectant mothers.

Only Thirty-Two Deaths Was Toll Of 1913 July 4th

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Thirty-two persons died in Fourth of July celebrations this year, fewer than in any year since statisticians began recording the toll of fireworks. Figures gathered by the Journal of the American Medical association and published today compare this total to that of 466 in 1903, the first year the association counted the victims, and gave rise to the prediction that the "annual orgy of death and destruction soon will cease."

Of this year's victims, 13, most of them little girls, were burned to death when their clothing caught fire. Two of these accidents were caused by supposedly harmless "snapper" matches.

The non-fatal injuries this year were 1,121, against 947 in 1912 and 5,883 in 1903.

The most notable reductions in the number of injured came from cities where ordinances prohibiting the sale and use of fireworks are enforced. In the list, Boston, Newark, Milwaukee and Chicago appear most prominently.

More than 40 per cent of all casualties reported were in Pennsylvania, which reported 491 injuries, including nine deaths. Of this number 240 occurred in Philadelphia.

COLUMBUS WANTS MORE COTTON THAN IT GETS

COLUMBUS, Ga., Aug. 30.—Columbus is after more cotton. The board of trade has taken up the question and a special committee from that organization is out in the field with a view of ascertaining why more of the fleecy staple is not brought to this city.

The committee is also doing some missionary work. It has arranged to send out circular letters to the cotton planters of the district, calling attention to the inducemens offered farmers here, and urging that more cotton be brought to this market. These letters are being mailed out today.

AUTOIST HELD FOR GOLDSTEIN'S DEATH

Runs Down and Kills Prominent Real Estate Man on Washington Street

T. A. Curtis, of 358 East Hunter street, is held by the police without the privilege of bond for running into and with an automobile and killing Samuel Goldstein, a well known real estate dealer, at Washington and Crumley streets Friday afternoon. He will be arraigned before the city recorder Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The accident happened as Mr. Goldstein was stepping from the car to go to his home, 335 Washington street, for lunch. It was witnessed by several persons standing on the platforms of the street car and on the street in the vicinity. Curtis is said to have been following a few yards behind the street car and in his automobile when the conveyance stopped and Mr. Goldstein stepped to the pavement.

The automobile, without appreciably slacking its speed, ran into the real estate dealer and dashed him to the pavement, say spectators. The front wheels of the car passed over his chest. He sustained a fracture of the skull and internal injuries.

Passengers on the street car and others assisted in the scene a minute later an ambulance and sent the victim of the accident to the Atlanta hospital, where he died a short while after his arrival. The man was unconscious when picked up and never regained his senses before death.

Curtis, following the accident, is said to have driven from the scene without slackening his pace. The conductor of the street car, however, got the number of his automobile and, when the unusual made an investigation later, gave it to them. Late Friday night Curtis was arrested at his home by Detectives Garner and Harper.

Curtis admitted the accident to the police. He said his brakes would not work and that he could not stop his machine in time to prevent the collision. He declared that Assistant Chief of Police J. L. Jett that he fled from the scene. He drove his car about a block after running into the real estate man and then got out and came back to offer what assistance he could, he said.

It was the first time that he had driven the car this year, Curtis said. He told the police that he was showing it to a prospective purchaser. He declared that as he neared the street car he slowed down until he heard the conductor give the motorman the signal to proceed.

He said that he then slightly increased the pace of his car. Just as the car started ahead, he asserted, Mr. Goldstein stepped from the front platform. He thought the realty dealer was going to walk to the sidewalk. Instead, he said, he remained in the center of the street waiting for the car to pass. When he tried to put on his brakes the appliance failed to work properly and the momentum of the car carried him directly into the man.

Curtis said that he tried to swerve to the side of the street and thus avoid the collision, but the car skidded against a slight grade in the street. The machine ran a block before he could stop it, he said. He then declared that he got out and came back to the scene.

"It was purely an accident," was Curtis' comment.

Mr. Goldstein was 49 years old. He had been a resident of Atlanta for many years. He is survived by two children, Mrs. Sadie Gordon and Abe Goldstein.

Doctor's Machine Runs Over G. R. Yerber

G. R. Yerber, of Vinings, Cobb county, who was injured Friday afternoon in an automobile accident on Forsyth between Hunter and Mitchell streets, left the Grady hospital, where he was taken later in the evening. His injuries, which were at first thought serious, proved to be of a minor nature.

Yerber was struck by an automobile owned and driven by Dr. J. K. Barrett, of 12 Lawson street. He was crossing the street when hit by the machine. Dr. Barrett picked the victim up and carried him to the hospital after the mishap.

NEW COMMISSIONER STUDIES TAX RETURNS

Tax Commissioner John C. Hart has begun to make a careful study of the tax returns from various counties in anticipation of putting the new tax reform law into effect next year as to the equalization of county values.

All taxes for this year will be paid from the returns as given to the various tax receivers and later reported to the office of the comptroller general. The present law is not effective until 1914, and at that time the machinery will be put in operation.

Elections for the boards of county assessors are to take place in January and the last Saturday in each month February 1, closing May 1. Twenty days after that time the county tax boards shall meet and go over the returns and revise them where revision is necessary.

THEATRES

(Criticisms of initial performances at the local theaters are written by members of The Journal staff. All other matter appearing in this column is furnished by the theater managements.)

The feminine contingent of the audiences who will witness Miss Emma Bunting's production of "The Circus Girl" at the Lyric theater next week, will be delighted at the view of several new and stunning gowns which the little actress will wear in this role, one, by the way, in which she has never yet been seen in this city. It is the character of a young American girl who is playing a visit to England and while in the capital city of London becomes entangled in a humorous way with the British nobility. It is just the sort of a part in which Miss Bunting revels and the kind that her admirers are most pleased to see her portray. Among those who will assist the little actress in affording amusement are, in addition to her leading man, Mr. George Whitaker, Samuel C. Miller, Marie Harcourt, Jack Ball, Walter Woodall, Charles Hamm, Eva Sargent and Virginia Hadley. Miss Bunting's engagement in this city is limited to one week, and the latter a week's engagement in Birmingham she goes to New Orleans for the winter to appear in repertoire at the Dauphine theater. The first performance takes place Monday afternoon, and the usual Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees are to be given.

Kinemacolor will show a two-reel comedy drama "Other People's Children," at the Grand today and tomorrow, and another beautiful reel, "Beach Scenes Around New York." These pictures are in keeping with the other beautiful Kinemacolor subjects that have been seen at the Grand since the introduction of this policy.

There will be the usual exhibition of black and white first-run features in addition to the Kinemacolor pictures.

The success of this policy at the Grand has been most pronounced. The theatergoers have rapidly learned that the Grand is offering something most unusual.

The Jewell Kelley company will bring to a close tonight the first week of its engagement at the Bijou. It is always pleasant to record a success and there is no denying the fact that the Jewell Kelley company has made the biggest kind of a hit with its first week, inaugurating a season which promises to run well into the winter. "Her Fatal Shadow" is an excellent bill and it is being well presented by the company. In fact, no better play could have been selected to introduce Jewell Kelley and his players to the Atlanta public. Next week will see the first presentation in Atlanta of the sensational comedy drama, "The Man from the West." Much is expected from the play and it will very likely prove quite as popular as this week's offering. Matinees every afternoon at 2:30 and evening performances at 8:30.

ORDERED SILK HOSE AND PAID WITH BUM CHECK

Gaines Pressley Held at Police Station Charged With Swindling and Cheating

Gaines Pressley is held by the police on a charge of cheating and swindling as a result of passing an alleged forged check on a local department store, and attempting to pass another on the same firm. He was arrested at Gilmore and Butler streets by Detectives McGill and Galespie late Friday afternoon.

According to the police, Pressley went to the store Friday morning and ordered several pairs of ladies' silk hose to be sent to a certain address, the goods to be paid for on delivery. When the stockings reached him by messenger Pressley is alleged to have given a fictitious check for $5 bearing the signature "Mrs. A. King."

Not satisfied with working the game once, the police say he tried it later in the day on the same firm, ordering the goods sent this time to Gilmore and Butler streets. The company notified the police with the result that when he attempted to give a second deliveryman another check he was taken into custody. Eleven checks for $5 each, each bearing the name of "Mrs. A. King" were found in his possession when he was searched at the police station, the police say.

BIG SUFFRAGE MEETING IN THE SENATE CHAMBER

Mrs. Mary L. McLendon Predicts That Women Will Vote in Georgia Soon

That the day is not far distant when the women of Georgia will have the right to vote, and when women will take part in the deliberations of the Georgia legislature as regularly elected and qualified members of that body, was the prediction Friday night of Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, president of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association, in addressing an open suffrage meeting in the senate chamber of the state capitol.

The senate chamber was filled to its capacity by an audience consisting not of women alone, but of men also who are interested in the suffrage cause and who had come to hear an outline of the plans for organizing men's equal suffrage clubs throughout the state.

Rev. A. M. Hunnicutt, pastor of St. Mark's Methodist church, made the first formal address on the program. After an prayer in which he asked for divine guidance in advancing the suffrage cause, he scored the forces opposed to votes for women. He argued that since women are under the same compulsion of the law as men, they have the same right as men to take part in framing the law.

Miss S. A. Gresham, of Waynesboro, Ga., first vice president of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association, congratulated the assembled enthusiasts on the rapid growth of the movement in Georgia.

Leonard J. Grossman, an Atlanta attorney, who is legal adviser of the association, outlined the plan which will be followed in the state-wide campaign for the passage of an equal suffrage measure at the next session of the legislature.

Dr. M. C. Hardin, a man who has been an advocate of equal suffrage for years, declared that women are entitled to equal civil rights in every way with men.

Charles McDaniels, a recent graduate of the Boys' High school, and now a student of the state university, acquitted himself with distinction in a brief talk on the subject.

In closing the meeting Mrs. McLendon announced that open meetings will be held at regular intervals in the future, the next one being scheduled for the Hotel Ansley.

Mass Meeting Will Be Held Thursday Night to Hear Committee Report

A big meeting of the South Side Improvement club will be held at the South Pryor Street school building next Thursday evening to hear the report of the committee on improvement of South Pryor street.

The meeting will be attended by Mayor Woodward, members of the city council and members of the county commission. Several candidates for city council are expected. The object will be to arouse interest in improving South Pryor street.

The committee of the improvement club has been making a thorough canvass of South Pryor property owners from Georgia avenue to Ridge avenue in order to get them to donate strips of their property so that the street can be widened.

About 75 per cent of the property owners agreed to waive claim for damage, according to the full and thorough statement that the committee has compiled.

An endeavor will be made to get the matter before the city council at the October meeting so that an appropriation for the improvement will go on the financial sheet for October. Provided this fails, however, it will be taken up the first of the new year.

OPPOSES GASOLINE TANKS ON SIDEWALKS OF CITY

The installation of gasoline tanks on the city sidewalks was vigorously opposed by Councilman Claude L. Ashley at a meeting of the street committee of council Friday afternoon.

He declared that they are a nuisance, and he believed they are illegal. To determine the latter question, he called on the city attorney for a ruling, which will be given later.

It is an argument against intervention by the United States; also, there are comments on the proposed currency measure, the rural credits bill, and tax equalization in Georgia. It commends the appointment of A. O. Blalock as collector of internal revenue for this district and pays a compliment to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for his readiness to meet emergencies.

NEGRO ARRESTED HAD $4,382 IN SPECIE

Dennis Camp, a young negro of 29 Clover Alley, was held to the state under $1,000 bond Saturday by Recorder Preston on two charges of burglary.

When the negro was first arrested officers searched him and found a pocketbook, fat with bills. The ends of the bills protruded and figures were revealed running up as high as $500. But an examination proved the money to be Confederate specie. There was $4,382 of the Confederate money.

The evidence against Camp tended to show he burglarized the houses at 10 Valentine street and 230 Turner Alley.

MORE FIRE HYDRANTS FAVORED BY MAYOR

Mayor Woodward is in favor of the city increasing the number of fire hydrants in the fire limits in the year 1914, both as a means of saving money in the purchase of fire hose and in reducing fire insurance rates.

Mayor Woodward states that other cities have tried the plan with marked success, and that council members with whom he has discussed it are favorably inclined to the proposition.

SAYS FIREMEN CAUSED HER TO SPRAIN ANKLE

Mrs. W. A. Rogers Sues City of Atlanta for $10,000 Damages

Alleging that city firemen cut a hole in the floor of her front hall and that she fell through it, Mrs. W. A. Rogers, of 179 Ivy street, has filed suit against the city for $10,000 damages.

In her bill Mrs. Rogers alleges that her daughter, who lived next door at 177 Ivy street, saw smoke and turned in an alarm. The firemen came rushing in and saw smoke coming up through the floor of her house. They immediately chopped a hole through her floor, looking for the blaze, she said. They didn't find it there but in an ash can next door.

However, Mrs. Rogers asserts that the city fire ladies went off and left the big jagged hole in the front hall. She put a chair over it, she says, but that night somebody moved the chair, and she came along and fell in the hole. Her ankle was sprained and she suffered other injuries.

By her injuries Mrs. Rogers declares, she has been incapacitated for her work as a boarding house keeper, at which she was making $200 per month, when she was hurt.

Another scientist condemns the light bottle

That Dangerous Cotton Tax.

It is reliably, though unofficially, reported at Washington that Democratic leaders in the Senate have practically agreed to effect a change in that section of the tariff bill which places a tax of fifty cents a bale on contracts for future cotton delivery.

Business men everywhere, and particularly in the South, will hope that there may be not merely a change but an outright abolishment of this unjust and dangerous provision. The proposed tax has no rightful place in a tariff measure. It will accomplish no worthy end. But it will imperial a great fiendl of commercial and agricultural interests. It will injure the farmer and the manufacturer as well as the cotton merchant and will set in motion a train of hardships and losses, the end of which no one can foresee.

Right-minded men all agree that gambling in cotton should be outlawed. But no man who understands the real purpose and use of future contracts for cotton can doubt for a moment that they are as legitimate as they are necessary. Such contracts afford the merchant his only safeguard against the ceaseless fluctuations of the cotton market. The merchant may obligate himself today to deliver to a mill a certain number of bales at a fixed price. But unless he has some means of "hedging" or protecting himself against those continuous and often violent changes, to which cotton more than any other commodity is subject, he may find that he cannot fulfill his agreement without ruinous loss. Indeed, it is essential to the very existence of the cotton trade that the merchant have some opportunity to protect himself against these fluctuations; and that is the opportunity which the future contract provides.

The effect of this useful system is obviously toward maintaining a fair price for cotton, for the dealer could not afford to offer such a price, if he were compelled to incur all the risks of his business with no safeguard. Clearly, therefore, a large portion of the proposed tax would have to be paid out of the farmer's earnings; and in the final analysis such a tax would prove tremendously harmful to all those important interests which the production, the merchandise and the manufacture of cotton include.

Cotton exchanges should be duly regulated but their legitimate uses should not be blindly ignored. However desirable it may be to prohibit wild and unwholesome speculation, Congress should certainly not destroy nor discourage a thoroughly normal and necessary process of the country's business life. The attempt to rid the cotton trade of gambling by virtually abolishing the future contract is as foolish as it would be to use a pair of tongs in trying to get a cinder from a man's eye. These mock reformers would not reach the cinder but they would certainly ruin the eye.

For our part we shall not complain if President Wilson takes a day or so off.

The Mystery of C. Castro.

[illegible]t bedeviling spirit who walks in the flesh under the name of Cipriano Castro has not had so easy a time as he expected in making a throne and footstool of his native Venezuela. Indeed, his pell-mell flight is at an end, if we are to credit the reports of the established government. Scattered bands of adventurers continue to harry the more isolated parts of the country, but the Castro army, if that term may be applied to his tatterdemalion recruits, has fought its last battle and those who have escaped capture can now only return to their promiscuous trade as highwaymen.

The only remaining interest in the Venezuelan affair is the mystery that envelops Castro himself. Where is he? What is he doing? What will be his end? Never was the Man of the Iron Mask more baffling to the outer world's curiosity. The fact is no one seems entirely sure that Castro returned to Venezuela, though the sudden activity among his adherents indicated that he did. The last authentic account of this famous picaroon placed his whereabouts in the West Indies whither he had sailed after being denied admittance to the United States. But there the news agencies lost scent of his track and his subsequent doings have been largely a matter of guesswork.

Several years ago, it will be remembered, Castro was in effect banished from Venezuela under an international mandate. His misrule of that country had been so glaring and so particularly offensive to foreign Powers that when the occasion offered they united in ordering him out of the western world; and all Venezuelans who wanted a chance to live in peace and safety were heartily glad.

The fortune he had accumulated as an unscrupulous dictator was enough to content his avarice and, had he been less wildly ambitious he might have spent his days luxuriously in European capitals. But his one restless dream was to regain control in his homeland; and so, a few seasons ago, eluding the Powers, he recrossed the Atlantic. The common belief is that he is now somewhere in Venezuela, though he has not led his forces in the field. If Castro's stormy career is to end with poetic justice he must bid a last, bloody defiance in his native haunts; but the prosaic probability is that he will slip back to Europe and drag out a dull old age.

It wouldn't be surprising if Cole Blease took a hand in that Thaw extradition.

Hope for Bird Protection.

Everyone interested in the world-wide movement for the protection of valuable birds is pleased to learn of the brightened outlook for helpful legislation of this character at the present session of Congress. The tariff bill, as originally passed by the House, contained a wholesome clause prohibiting the importation of feathers and plumage from certain important species of birds for commercial uses. This provision was inserted in the bill largely at *the instance of conservationists and leaders of Audu*bon societies who realized the great economic cost as well as the unspeakable cruelties that are involved in plumage traffic. The House assented to this clause without opposition, and rightly so, for it represented not only a worthy sentiment but also a logical conviction held by thousands of thinking people the nation over.

But when this particular provision of the tariff measure was taken under consideration by the Senate finance committee, it was so amended as practically to destroy its usefulness. Exceptions were made one after another until the prohibitive clause was stripped of all its original force and the way for destructive commerce in bird life was left as wide open as ever. On what theory or for what motive this was done, is not altogther clear.

When the supporters of the bird protection movement realized what had happened, however, they redoubled their efforts and brought to bear such a pressure of intelligent opinion that the Senate has referred the ill-advised amendment to the committee for reconsideration; and now there is reason to hope that the amendment will be stricken out.

This may be regarded as a minor issue and, as compared with the larger ends of tariff revision, it is. It should not be permitted to encumber or delay the essential purposes of the bill. Nor is there any necessity that it should. The stanchest protectionist and the stanchest free trader should be able to agree that it would be a wise and humane thing for this Government to set the world a good example by prohibiting the importation of plumage which is obtained only through the brutal slaughter of rare and valuable birds.

Open-Air Schools.

The international congress on school hygiene which is now in session at Buffalo, N. Y., makes the interesting suggestion that the United States government place at the disposal of the various States "as many of the discarded battleships and cruisers as possible to be anchored according to their size in rivers or at the seashore and to be utilized by the respective communities for open air schools for children or hospital sanatoria for adults."

Whether such a plan would be thoroughly practicable calls for inquiry, though it may be noted that the Italian government has already allotted three of its outworn war vessels to this purpose. The proposal of the congress at least serves to emphasize the world-wide and ever-growing interest in open air schools.

Progressive educators agree that schools of this kind not only conserve and upbuild the health of the children but also increase their mental efficiency.

Pupils taught in the open air show a distinct advance over those confined in more or less stuffy rooms. Their weight increases, their progress in studies *is more rapid and their deportment is appre*ciably better.

The time will come when open-air schools will be numerous in every up-to-date community.

SAVING THE BABIES

By Frederic J. Haskin

The great interest in eugenics which is sweeping over the country has developed an interest in everything pertaining to the production of healthy babies. No sham delicacy now prevents the consideration of a matter so essential to the future good of the nation. It is not sufficient now to consider the needs of the child only after he is born. Attention must be given to his prenatal life in order that he may be born with an assured prospect of strength and good health. This requires that expectant mothers have proper nourishment and care. The latest development in eugenic progress was the opening last month in New York of a "prenatal restaurant" to provide proper food to expectant mothers. The sponsor of this unique restaurant is Miss Mabel Parker, who for five years has been operating, chiefly through her own energies, a milk station for babies on the west side of New York City, north of 100th street. She has saved the lives of hundreds of babies by providing them with fresh pure milk. In doing this she has discovered that even good milk will not always give strength to a baby who was born puny and frail. In her years of contact with the mothers of the poor, Miss Parker learned, as have many other social workers, that the reason a baby is born puny is chiefly because his mother was lacking in physical strength.

• • •

The object of this restaurant is to place within the reach of the expectant mother of that vicinity the means of keeping herself in good health until her child is born. It is believed that the "prenatal restaurant" of New York will be only a forerunner of many similar institutions which will fill a pressing need in every city. This little establishment opened by Miss Parker is only a small beginning. Doubtless it will soon grow in size, for its purpose is in line with the most modern developments of practical philanthropy. It will supply only the noon meal of a woman. This will consist of meat, broth and vegetables, and it will cost but 5 cents. This low price will place it within the reach of almost every woman of the tenement district, although no expectant mother who lacks this small coin will be refused the food needed.

• • •

According to recently compiled reports made under the direction of Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the National Children's bureau, fully 38 per cent of the deaths of children under one year of age are due to causes mainly dependent upon the health of the mother before the birth of her infant. Of the 154,373 infants who died in the United States two years ago nearly 10 per cent lived less than a day and over 23 per cent lived less than a week. The report for last year shows a decrease in the number of deaths from 154,373 to 149,322, which is believed to be entirely due to the baby saving campaigns in the larger cities. This result would be most gratifying but for the fact that the number of babies who lived only a day increased from 10 per cent to 12 per cent, and those living less than a week from 23 to 27 per cent.

• • •

These figures clearly prove that the efforts to save the babies through pure milk and more intelligent care have produced definite results, but they also indicate the need of effort to reach prenatal conditions. This need is becoming recognized by visiting nurse societies and similar organizations, and much has been done to meet it. In Boston an organization of women has been perfected visiting nurses to every expectant mother within their reach. The nurses visit the women regularly and give them scientific instruction as to the care to be taken of themselves before and after the birth of the child. Diet was not discussed at first, but is now receiving attention because of the widely published statement that it is impossible for a poorly fed mother to give birth to a vigorous, healthy infant and nurse it successfully afterward.

• • •

If a prospective mother's food is not well selected it cannot give the degree of nourishment demanded for the future welfare of the child. So generally is this fact recognized that nurses who until within the past year only touched upon the subject of the mother's diet now give definite instruction upon this subject. Diet lectures for prospective mothers are being delivered in all large cities. Women are being advised to forego highly seasoned and very rich foods at this time and choose those which are best suited to their digestion.

• • •

In a dietary list for prospective mothers lately issued by the New York state board of health, soups and fresh fish of all kinds are recommended. Red meat should be eaten sparingly and only once a day. Chicken, ham, veal, mutton and lamb are preferable to beef. Stale white bread, corn bread, brown bread, toast, crackers, rice and all cereals are wholesome. Heavy vegetables, such as turnips and cabbage should be avoided. In their place should be eaten light, fresh vegetables, including lettuce salads with plenty of oil. No beer or other alcoholic beverages should be taken. Tea and coffee should be taken sparingly, if at all. Milk, buttermilk, cocoa and malted milk should be substituted. No pastries should be eaten. Plain puddings, custards, junket, stewed and fresh fruit should furnish the desserts.

• • •

Paris was the first city to open a free restaurant for expectant mothers. The need of the French nation for an increase in its population has led the government to make every effort, not only to increase the birth rate, but to provide for the production of strong, healthy children. In different parts of Paris are small cafes at which expectant mothers can obtain a free meal upon the presentation of a card signed by a physician. It is not unusual for a French woman to receive free food for months before confinement. She can also enter a hospital six weeks before confinement and be properly provided for until her child is at least two weeks old.

• • •

In Germany a nursing mother can receive proper provision of food at the expense of the state, and a number of institutions will provide her with food under government authority and with but small formality, for months before confinement. In London numerous diet kitchens scattered over the city will supply food to an expectant or nursing mother, either free, or for a price within her reach. In Scotland a nursing society provides food to nursing mothers.

• • •

In the United States this work is comparatively new, although much more attention is being given to it than has been realized outside of charitable circles. The organized charities in every large American city are making liberal food provisions for prospective mothers. Even though a woman may prefer to exist upon the scanty food which she may be able to provide for herself, the friendly visitor who knows of her condition will urge her to accept the aid of the organization in order that the little one who must depend upon the mother's vitality for nourishment may not be deprived of the natural birthright of good health and vigor.

• • •

In every city are mothers who have money enough to provide themselves with proper food, but not the time or inclination to prepare it for themselves. A woman working at some kind of sewing at home may be earning enough to supply her needs for nutrition, but she may not want to take time to prepare it. She will quiet her hunger by a hastily eaten piece of bread or cake, accompanied by a cup of strong tea or coffee. She may not suffer any discomfort at the time but the weakened condition of the child will be the price she pays for this neglect of her own health.

If the Republicans are attempting to make campaign material by their delay of the tariff, they are making it all right, but most of it will be used by the Democrats.—Indianapolis News.

The Conning Tower

BY FRANKLIN P. ADAMS.

SONNET.

A type of verse too often seen in print,
A kind of verse I perfectly detest,
Is that wherein the bard with feeble jest
Proclaims how easy 'tis to epiel his stint.
With flippant show and egotistic hint
He drivels onward in his futile quest,
As who should tell the world: "This is my best,"
As if the world knew e'en that he was in't!

Now I who find no trouble, none at all,
In piling consonances Ossa-high
(These very lines took ninety seconds flat),
Whot even in my talk am wont to fall
Into full-ryming periods—why, I
Would never thing of writing verse like that!

Discussion in Scituate the other day ran on the high cost of tennis balls. It was suggested by Mrs. Inez Haynes Gillmore that Luther Burbank cross the rubber plant with the cottonwood tree, the orchard to be in proximity to a court. It is Old Bill Irwin's idea, however, that a touch of pine might give the plant a fine tennis-balsam air. "And," added Sam Merwin, "cross-court it with a peach, for mixed doubles."

PERCY MARSHMALLOW.

BY JACK MANCHESTER.

Before I start my sweetly solemn story I must ask the reader to understand me. I am a hardened drinker of soft drinks. I am a souseparil, you might say. In my bouts with Percy Marshmallow I have a world of speed, but no control. And I am writing this under my physician's advice—a human physician he is, too. So I call this a human doc-ument, trusting you will grab my meaning. It is humorous, a bit of word-play. I made it but to prove I could. I am not naturally or spotaneously comic.

I well remember the first time I got soft-drunk. I was seven years old. It was Derby day in Chicago and another boy and I had a lemonade stand in front of our house, as the route to the track was that way. We brewed eight gallons of the heavenly stuff and sold but six. That left a gallon for each of us. My partner could not drink over a quart, but I drank the rest with ease. It was the talk of our block and for some weeks I was almost as big a hero as Bob Garnett, who had been fired from school. Beyond a scolding from my mother because I had furnished the sugar and lemons and my partner had supplied the water for our stock, I suffered no ill effects from my encounter. As a matter of fact, I thought I was getting the better of the bargain—the water seemed so much bulkier than the sugar and lemons.

People Make the Wars

Elihu Root in a recent speech declared that after all is said and done it is not governments but peoples that must maintain peace; and that war will never be done away with "so long as people fail to exercise proper self-restraint and the courtesy that is the peace of the world demands. We in America must learn that we cannot continue a policy of peace with insult. We must learn civility."

There is much good sense in that. Peace between nations, like peace between individuals, depends upon sympathy and understanding, and these come from the practice of forbearance, kindliness, courtesy.

As individuals resent slurs on their honor and integrity, so do nations, and a handful of jingoes talking loudly of superiority, and remarking upon the inferiority of another nation, can do more to disturb international amity than all the government can correct.

More charity must be exercised, and a great willingness to recognize that difference does not imply inferiority, and that all the virtues are not inherent in one country and in one race.

Peace must rest finally upon a sense of brotherhood, and this depends upon a recognition of the civilities and decencies of human intercourse.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

UP AGAINST IT

BY DD. FRANK CRANE.

(Copyright, 1912, by Frank Crane.)

It is a terse Americanism, and expresses in solid, idiomatic language a solid, bitter fact: "Up Against It."

There's an army of them right in this city, an army of soldiers that battle for sustenance, an army fighting in the last ditch.

I saw and talked with one the other day. She was a mere child, just twenty-two. Her clothes were not new. Her neck was thin, her cheeks thin, her eyes, it seemed, too large.

"I am still trying to get a job," she said. "Oh! I'm pretty well; only I haven't as much strength as I had. You see, when I don't eat regularly it tells on me. I don't eat every day, and some days I only get one meal. And then I walk from where I room to the business places downtown. It's a long way. I get awful tired. My landlady is awful good to me. She's waiting till I get my job. Gee! it's fierce to be up against it!"

Yet withal she was brave, cheerful, self-respecting, keeping her soul and her little body clean, while she fought with the wild wolves that hunt in cities.

"I got a raise yesterday," said a young man, a friend of mine. "I pawned my watch. I had a grand feed."

He had come to the city to study music. Oh! the heartbreaking company of them that hope to live by music! For every singer in a church choir, getting $5 a Sunday, twenty stand hungry for the place. For every girl in the theater chorus, twenty have been turned away to trapp further. For every clerk in the stores there are three in line waiting, up against it.

It is the string line of civilization.

It is the thin red line we have thrown out to meet the common enemy, Hunger.

Late at night I have seen them on the benches in the parks, sitting with a newspaper over the knees. There seems to be a deal of warmth in a newspaper. I have talked with them. They are sociable folks, much easier to approach than successful people.

I have always loved failures. They are more human. Their souls seem more visible than the souls of the prosperous.

Where the Salvation Army's drums are beating and horns blowing they congregate. That is my favorite church. Surely if the Messiah is anywhere He may be found there.

You can see them in t-e saloons. A glass of beer can be got for five cents. It is the little bit of light in lives most terribly dark.

They are not all tramps. There are mothers up against it, holding babies, looking all night into the darkness, as if into the eyes of Pauguk.

There are hard-working fathers who have plodded all day searching for what means more to them than salvation—a job.

There are boys, for whom crime bids.

There are girls, for whom human tigers lie in wait.

There are little children. I saw two, a little boy and girl, the other morning early; they were going through a garbage can, looking for scraps of food.

Those who have never been up against it do not know what a tragic world this is.

Motion Picture Dresses

(Answers, London.)

Every frequenter of the motion picture theaters must have been struck, at some time or another, by the luxuriousness of the stage setting of most of the society dramas—the magnificence of the decorations, the richness of the furnishing, and the costliness of the dresses worn by the performers.

Few, however, have any real conception of the huge cost of these things appreciate the pains taken by the big film producing companies to get the best of everything.

Take, for instance, the costumes of the principle actresses. The capitals of Europe are ransacked for the latest "creations" in millinery and modes. When Miss Miriam Nesbit and Miss Mary Fuller were last over here with the Edison company, they paid a visit to Paris for the purpose of purchasing a stock of such things for future Edison productions, and in two days' shopping they spent more than $15,000.

Miss Lottie Griscoe, the Lubin star actress, recently played in a film which necessitated no fewer than fourteen changes of costumes, each costing on an average about $75, and she needs, when on tour, twenty trunks for her wardrobe.

Miss Gene Gautier wears one set of furs in the Kalem pictures that cost $4,000, and she has other sets almost equally as valuable. Miss Asta Neilson is credited with being the most expensively dressed actress in the pictures. Frequently her costumes in the society scenes in which she specializes will cost as much as $500 apiece.

It might be thought that as the actual dresses worn by the performers are not seen by the public, but only the photographic representations of them, that common material or imitation stuff would do as well as the real articles.

But, as a matter of fact, this is far from being the case. Indeed, the very reverse holds good. To get a really firstclass photograph, firstclass "properties" must be provided.

In the early days of the picture play business this was not properly realized, and a company that laid out $5,000 on a collection of properties, although expecting them to last for years, was considered extravagant.

Nowadays, on the other hand, it would be a very cheap affair that would start with less than $15,000 or $20,000 worth; while one of the best known of the really big film companies is reported to spend as much as $50,000 every year in dressing—or, as it is technically tearmed, "robing" its shows.

Acquired Wisdom

When I used to be well fixed,
I scarcely studied folks at all;
I just sort o' judged betwixt
Thick and thin and short and tall.
But since misfortune's got my tag
I'm looking deeper than the skin
And, while I don't much care to brag,
I'm fair at judging what's within.

You'll never see me try to touch
A high silk tile for 50 cents;
I stand more chance to get so much
From some old cady full o' dents.
And as for getting handouts, why,
Give me a battered back street place
And I'll pass rows of mansions by—
They give no chance to run your face.

In other days I used to look
Much more, I think at clothes than folks
(Just as if trumpet vines had took
To holding up the biggest oaks).
I've learned you can't gauge sympathy
By cut o' clothes or piles of cash:
The meek and lowly folks for me—
The folks that's felt misfortune's lash!

SUNDAY SONGS AND SERMONS

ONE OF THE MONUMENTS OF JESUS

By Rev. Alex W. Bealer

Tomorrow is the Lord's day, the day which we call Sunday or the Sabbath, the day of rest for all the children of men. Before you desecrate it, whoever you may be, let me remind you that it is one of the monuments of Jesus Christ the Son of God. It has been the custom of men in all ages of the world to erect monuments to commemorate the words and deeds of those who have lived to benefit their fellow-men.

In almost every southern city you can see a polished shaft of marble lifting its shining surface toward the clouds, its crowning glory being a Confederate soldier with his uniform and cap, his musket, his blanket and canteen. Bathed in the sunlight of the summer time, robed in the spotless ermine of the winter and kissed by the mockbirds of Dixie he stands throughout the rolling years to remind the coming generations of the sacrifices endured on the battlefield by the private soldiers in the Confederate army.

This figure recalls their undying love for this their native land, a love that nerved them to face the foe with a courage that called forth the plaudits of men. It was this love that, like fire, has enabled them to rise above the ashes of a desolated country and to build thereon a more enduring fame, a love that has been transmitted to their children and their children's children, and so long as the sun shines in beauty and the Southern rivers run in the veins and arteries of the south her people shall look with swelling heart and tearful eyes upon these monuments to her dead, but never to be forgotten past.

IN FOOTSTEPS OF JESUS.

In erecting these monuments man is but following in the footsteps of Jesus Christ, the greatest monument builder the world has ever seen. Before his great work was finished it was necessary for him to be crucified, to be buried and to rise again from the dead to demonstrate that he was the son of God. He knew how easy it would be for men to forget. To remind them of all this he did for them he erected several monuments, one of the most beautiful of which is this one which we call the Lord's day. Let me dwell a little while upon it "lest we forget, lest we too forget."

How beautiful it is as it stands in all its peaceful holiness among the sons of men. To me the sun seems to shine brighter on this glad day than at any other time and sometimes I think that God has eclipsed the orb of day with his glorious face and that it is His smile and not the sun we see. The air seems purer, and is it too much to think that God is breathing a benediction from the skies upon His people? The birds seem to sing sweeter and is it a violent assumption to think that God has given them new notes borrowed from the symphonies of the heavenly choir to sing in honor of this day?

PURPOSE IN MONUMENT.

Jesus Christ had a purpose in erecting this monument of the Lord's day. Before his death the Seventh day was observed as the day of rest and worship and it was called the Sabbath. Not until after His death, burial and resurrection was the first day of the week used as a day of worship and then it became one of the Lord's day. The disciples were very particular about following the recorded commands of Jesus and hence used the first day of the week as a meeting time for the early church. It was on this day that the Lord rose from the dead and to celebrate this great event, the climax in the scheme of redemption, the church began, by Divine direction, I believe, to use it as a day of meeting for worship-ping God.

In point of beauty this monument stands at the head of all those erected by Jesus. Whenever I awake to look upon a glorious day of the Lord, seemingly a bridal of the earth and sky, when through the balmy air, fragrant with the breath of flowers and freighted with a spirit of devotion, the song of birds and buzz of insect life is heard, when all the earth seems to be at peace with God a sweet feeling of satisfaction fills my heart and I say to myself, "Christ the Lord is risen today."

When the mellow bells are ringing calling one and all to the churches erected in the name of Jesus, and when the organ is pealing forth some grand melody and human voices are lifted in song, when I see the suspension of business, it speaks to me of Heaven and of that rest which remaineth for the people of God when the toilings of this little life are over. And while I walk with willing feet and sympathetic heart with those who feel as I do, "my overflowing heart would stay in such a frame as this and sing itself away to everlasting bliss."

SHOULD BE PROTECTED.

It seems to me that it should be the chief joy of every Christian to protect this beautiful monument from harm. Its great is man's regard for the monuments that he had builded that laws have been enacted to keep them from harm. Let some vandal deface one and he is seized by the officers of the law and sent to swift and certain punishment. But the monument it is with this monument erected by Jesus Christ. How careless are His people in whose care it has been left. It should be a day of sympathetic prayer for things up his whole being, but alas, it is often made a day of labor by some and a day of social pleasure by many who claim to be the children of God.

The monuments of bronze and marble that stand in our cemeteries and on our public squares are gradually destroyed by the elements and in time they will crumble away. In Central park, New York, stands the oldest monument, Cleopatra's Needle, imported from Egypt. There it stood the sun and storms of many centuries, how many no one will ever know, and finally it was brought to the great metropolis of America. There is stands today as a mute testimonial to the magnificence of a nation where the arts and sciences were cradled. As I looked upon it some years ago I saw that the tooth of time was gnawing it away. Like the monuments on its face are worn and illegible and in many places the edges of the column have scaled away. In this same land of Egypt there are a number of pyramids. No one has ever learned by whom and for what purpose they were erected, Cleopatra's Needle, whose origin is veiled in obscurity, is marred by the hand of time; the pyramids, wonderful specimens of ancient handiwork, are waning away, but this monument of Jesus Christ will never lose its beauty till all the ransomed church of God be saved to the skies.

What a wonderful monument builder is Jesus Christ the Lord! Men must use bricks and cement and marble and brass and bronze for their monuments, and even then, with all their ingenuity, they cannot be kept from harm. But Jesus has taken sunshine, balm, music, the warm and cozy hours and with them, intangible as they seem, has constructed a monument that is as fresh today as it was when it came from His hands 2,000 years ago and it will be without spot or blemish when the trumpet shall sound to proclaim the end of time.

In view of all these things, let every child of God put forth his best efforts to preserve and keep this monument that Christ has given to keep alive the great truths that He rose from the dead and that through Him here remaineth a rest for the people of God in the world that is to come.

"Six days' stern labor shuts the poor
From nature's bounteous banquet hall;
The seventh an angel opes the door
And, smiling, welcomes all.
Six days of toil, poor child of Cain,
Thy strength Thy Master's slave must be;
The seventh the limbs escape the chain—
And Christ hath made thee free."

Don't Wait for Something Great

A Little Sermon for the Micawber Family

By Rev. Loy Warwick

He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful in that which is much. Luke 16:10.

We are admonished not to despise the day of small things. But after all is there anything small in God's great world?

"All the living chemists, without stirring a step, could find enough in a small bit of air to engage them for a generation."

The poet pulled a flower from "the crannied wall." He mused as he looked at the little flower, and as he mused the fire burned in his soul.

"If," said the poet, 'I knew what you are, little flower, root and all, and all in all I should know what God and man are."

"The meanest flowers that blow do often give thoughts that lie too deep for tears."

All the sun is in one spark of electricity. All the ocean is in one drop of water.

EYES TO SEE WE NEED.

No duty is small. No opportunity to serve your fellowman is small.

The great Master washed the disciples' feet. The greatest of the apostles gathered sticks to build a fire for his wet and shivering companions.

We wait for opportunities to serve our fellowmen, or go afar to find work. We weep over our lack of resources for doing good. We speak of what great things we could and would do—if we had the chance.

But it is eyes to see that we need. We need vision. Work, opportunity to serve, material for doing good to Christ's little ones—where shall we find them? Rather where we not find them? Open your eyes and they are all about you.

The story is told of a German girl in a large American city who prayed for years that she might be sent to the foreign field as a missionary. One morning, after her usual prayer, it seemed almost as though the Lord were talking to her, and her thought ran something like this:

"Where were you born?"

"In Germany."

"Where are you now?"

"In America."

"Who lives in the next room to yours?"

"A Swede girl."

"Is she a Christian?"

"No."

"Who lives in the flat below?"

"An Irish family."

"Christians?"

"No."

"Who lives next door?"

"Italians."

"Christians?"

"No."

"Have you ever done any missionary work in this neighborhood?"

And she was obliged to answer with shame and humiliation, "No."

In a foreign land, in the midst of foreigners who knew nothing of God, she had not recognized her opportunity. In she the only one or whom that could be said? How is it with you?

HOME WORK LORD'S WORK.

"But what can I do?" A busy woman—a wife and a mother, with heart and hands full, may ask the question.

The work she does in her home for husband and children is the Lord's work.

It does not free her from the obligation to do outside service as she has opportunity. But in her home, with her children—at the common round, the trivial task—she may say with Nehemiah, "I am doing a great work: why should the work cease while I leave it and come to you?"

"What I am," said Lincoln, "I owe to my angel mother."

Even the call to church work, the call to the mission field, the call to speak and live the best—nor any other call is more divine and more to be obeyed than the call to the duties of motherhood.

What is the state without the home? And what is the home without the mother?

You can't make men without having homes and mothers. Woman's suffrage may come in Georgia and all the states of this great republic it may bring good with it when it comes; but it will not bring woman any greater gifts, or power, or influence than she possesses right now.

"But what can I do, and what good is there in my present employment?" It is a Sunday school teacher who speaks now. She, or he says, "I am disengaged and out of work. I do not seem to get anywhere with my work. I see no results. I love to feel that I am bringing things to pass. I don't know how—even to want to learn. It is like pouring water out that cannot be gathered up again."

NOT FOR PRAISE OF MEN.

But, listen, brother, or sister, we are not working for praise of men, or for shine and show, are we? And we do not expect the harvest to come the day after the sowing, do we? And we cannot dictate to the great Teacher or to where and with what we work, can we? And we are not foolish enough to sit down and wait for some great thing to do before we try to do anything?

We must do our best where we are and with what we have and leave the rest to Him who says, "Go work in My vineyard," and "Cast thy bread upon the waters, use every opportunity, do good to all the people you can and in as many ways as you can.

The teachers of today are helping to make the men and women of tomorrow. Governors, diplomats, presidents, poets, statesmen, preachers and other makers of laws are in the Sunday school on Sunday, and in the public school from Monday till Friday afternoon. Some of them trudge there unwillingly, "with small's pack," but they are there. Something and somebody will help to make them.

The devil, the saloon, the slot machine, the cigarette store, the dime novel, the curser and swearer—these are busy. They never sleep and they never forget and they never neglect an opportunity—these agents and ambassadors of evil never get impatient in dealing with boys. They never grow weary in seeking to win them for their master. The servants of sin are sowing their generation than the children of light. More money is spent in your town to help make boys bad than the church spends to help them to be good. The church, the salvation home and good men and women must work to counteract and destroy all these works of the devil. We must build a strong wall of protection around these men of tomorrow.

START SOMETHING YOURSELF.

Don't wait for something great. And do not—like Mr. Micawber—wait for something to turn up. Go out and start something yourself. It is easy and cheap to stand or sit around and criticise the church and good people.

Do something. Do anything—the first thing you see that needs to be done. Wash somebody's feet. Give a cup of cold water to a thirsty soul. The best place for you to work is here and the best time to begin is now. Tomorrow's sun may never rise for you, or for the man you could help today.

On next Sunday night Dr. Ridley will begin a series of preparatory sermons looking to the coming meeting. His subject for Sunday night will be, "The Human Soul and How May It Be Lost." The large chorus choir, of which Dr. Ridley declares is the best he has heard in America, will lead the congregation in old-time singing.

Atlanta Nears Record Figure In Attendance

Birmingham Has Been Passed and the Cracker Bunch Is Now Climbing Nearer the 1907 Record Mark

With the Cracker team gradually but surely drawing nearer the Mobile crew interest in the Southern league pennant race is gaining in leaps and bounds, and it now looks as if Atlanta is sure to take the attendance honors for the 1912 season. Birmingham is the only contender, and whenever Atlanta can't win over the Alabama city, ther is something radically wrong, and this radical element will hardly bob up this season.

Despite the fact that the Cracker team has only an outside chance for the pennant, the fans have stuck gamely by the club and have boosted the attendance mark in the past week. The double bill set for Saturday and the big Labor day performances on Monday will surely draw big crowds and go a long way toward placing Atlanta far ahead of Birmingham.

In 1907 the Atlanta club set an attendance mark of 197,000, which has stood the test of time. The mark will not be shattered this season, but it is more than likely that it will be closely approached.

Right now the attendance at Ponce de Leon is bright around 150,000 and growing daily. It was not until Tuesday that the Birmingham attendance mark was passed, but since that time the Crackers have been gaining daily and with the end of next week the margin between the two promises to be large.

It is up to the fans to go to the park and aid in downing Birmingham. The team is playing grand ball and that is all anyone could ask for. As long as you get your money's worth, there is no kick.

Jordan's Club Takes Opener

Valdosta Out in Front for the Championship of Empire League

VALDOSTA, Ga., Aug. 30.—Valdosta took from Thomasville the first game of the post-season series Friday afternoon, 8 to 4.

The game was slow because of a drizzling rain and wet grounds. Valdosta clearly outclased the visitors in all departments of the game, except in extra base hits. Thomasville's five errors and the timely hitting of Valdosta tells the tale.

Cheney opened up and lasted three and a third innings. Roth, who relieved him, pitched good ball, but gave up two runs. Wingo, for the locals, was master of the situation except in the second and seventh, when Thomasville drove in two runs in each inning.

Schwartz and Hurley featured in fielding. Hawkins led with three hits.

Yankee Club Likely To Train in Texas

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Frank Chance, according to information last night, has practically decided that the spring training of the New York Americans next year shall be carried out in Texas. Houston is mentioned as a probable selection, the players to report about March 1, go through three weeks of seasoning in the Texas climate and work north by easy stages. Bermuda, it has been definitely determined, will not see the Highlanders again.

DePalma Wins In Fast Time

ELGIN, Ill., Aug. 30.—Two veteran drivers shared the honors of Friday's road race for the Cobe trophy, Ralph de Palma and Joe Dawson. The former won the 302 miles grind in 4:31:56, but Dawson was only slightly behind, going the distance in 4:39:52.

De Palma drove a Mercer, while Dawson piloted a Daltal, a new car. The course is approximately eight and one-half miles, requiring thirty-six laps to be complete. William Chandler also drives his Macon car thirty-three laps when Starter Wagner signalled that the contest was at an end and that third money went to him.

De Palma's average, 66.8 miles per hour, is slightly better than the previous record for this event, which is an annual preliminary to the Elgin National, to be run with fifteen big cars Saturday. The other five drivers who entered the race were disposed of as follows:

H. Endicott, Nyberg, went out at 259 miles, after twice breaking his water pipe and his car catching fire.

E. V. Rickenbacher, Mason, was in his twenty-eighth lap when the race was called.

Spencer Wishart, Mercer, laster 192 miles when a broken spring sent him to the side lines.

C. W. Chatterell, Mercer, lasted 125 miles when he quit with a burned out connecting rod.

Ralph Mulford, Mason, was out in the tenth lap, after leading the field with his crank shaft broken.

SOUTHERNERS WHO STARRED

Slim Sallee won a close game from the Reds Friday. He pitched a good game and kept his seven hits well scattered. George Suggs relieved Packard in the last chapter.

Bobby Byrne had a good day in the field against the Giants and played nice defensive ball. At the bat he hit safe once and scored.

Dody Paskert failed to hit but tallied. He gathered in three chances in center field.

Al Bridwell and Jimmy Archer helped the Cubs to put it over the Pirates, both got a hit and scored themselves. No bases were stolen on the Cub backstop.

Derrill Pratt errored once out of eight chances but failed to hit. Baenti had a clean error sheet and got a hit besides.

Doc Johnson was the batting star of the St. Louis-Cleveland game, getting two hits out of four times up. He also got ten putouts at first.

Joe Jackson hit safe once out of three times, but didn't have a chance in the field.

DOUBLE BILL TO CRACKERS; CONZELMAN STARS ON MOUND

With Joe Conzelman in form and pitching the best article of baseball shown on the local diamond this season the New Orleans team looked like a bunch of cubs in the first of the double bill on Friday. The score 5 to 0.

Just one hit was made off Conzelman and that went to the lot of Finis Wilson, the opposing slabman. It was a line drive over short and came in the third round aftr two were gone.

In the seven innings just twenty-two batters faced Conzelman. One walked only to be doubled up and the other singled and was left on the bags. Not a runner got as far as second base. Each time after a batter got on the bags Conzelman again struck his stride and fanned the nest.

Hitting won the game for the Crackers. In the third round an error, a sacrifice and three hits that produced one tally. In the fourth Chapman's single and Agler's double produced another and in the sixth Nixon's hit, an error, Long's single and Welchonce's double sent over three.

Harry Welchonce broke back into the game and considerably boosted his batting average. He hit safely twice in three times up, which sent his already high average up just a bit.

Kyle pulled a sensational stab in the fifth when he speared Bisland's long drive. Kyle got the ball with one hand while on the dead run and killed a sure home run.

Al Nixon came in for his share of hits. Once he doubled and later he beat out a nicely placed bunt. The fast youngster happened to a bad accident in the third when a foul ball bounded from the rubber and struck him full in the head. For a time it looked as if he would be knocked out for good but he stuck to his post.

Conzelman fanned one Pelican in each inning but the first. McKillen, McDowell, Kraft, Hendrix, Green and Wilson were the players to succumb to his weird delivery, his slow ball working as never before.

It took just four and one-half innings for the Crackers to roll up a 6 to 2 score in the second battle. Then darkness and rain interfered and it was called.

Gilbert Price and Peddy were the rival hurlers. Price gave up five hits and Peddy nine. Price was in several bad holes but managed to pull out without being scratched any foo much.

Tommy Long and Joe Dunn did the main hitting of the day. Joe once tripled and later singled while Long got two screaming singles.

In the second game Welchonce just refused to let up and got one hit in as many times at the bat. This served to further boost his batting mark.

One run was the best Tommy Long could do in the second game. But every little bit helps and Tommy gets a bit nearer a high water mark in runs each game he plays.

Wallace Smith gave a great exhibition of outwitting the opposition in the second inning when he was chased down between first and second. After having the entire Pel club after him he evaded the bunch and landed safely at first only to get up and try to steal second and was tossed outu. Butuu the Crackers had already made five runs this round.

McDowell, the young collegian playing with Frank, did the hitting for the Pels. Twice he hit safely.

Kyle looks as much like a real ball player as anybody Frank has with him. It was his scorching triple to right field that scored the two tallies for the Pels. He also fielded well.

This lad Kraft at first base is a grand hitter. He taps the ball hard and with a little more experience at the inside feature of the game will be a mighty valuable ball player.

With a glance at the baseball races of the 1913 season it is quite apparent that pitching has had a great deal to do with just the way the clubs are now lined up. Take a look at the National, American and Southern leaders while in the American good flinging has won many and many a battle and kept clubs in the chase after the batters had fallen.

The most noticeable example of the value of good pitching is shown in the work of the New York Giants. While it is evident that McGraw has some mighty good batters, fielders and an allround sensible bunch of ball players the sensational hurling of Mathewson, Marquard, Tesreau and Demaree has kept his team right up at the front all the way. Among the first six hurlers in the league three are New Yorkers. Mathewson tops the hurlers with Demaree second and Marquard is sixth. Then a very short way down the line you will find Fromme and Tesreau.

In the race in the American league Connie Mack has been out in front practically the entire season without the assistance of any especially remarkable hurling, yet he has been getting consistent pitching. But Mack's club doesn't have to get as good hurling to win as most teams, his $100,000 infield being enough to tide over weak pitchers. Yet out of the first eleven hurlers in the big show five are members of the Athletics. And this club is decidedly a big percentage. Bender and Plank have been Mack's mainstays with Houck, Bush and Brown three youngsters, filling in most acceptably when they are called upon to work.

Now down in the Southern league pitching has again proven a factor in the winning of games. Mike Finn had his hurlers working in grand shape all year and they have not faltered. Cavet, Hogg, Campbell and Berger have all sailed merrily along and have won game fter game all because they were able to hold the opposing team to a few runs. This made it easy for their batters.

The Mobile bunch has been both outhit and outfielded and yet the team is out in front and just won't relinquish its claim upon first place. The Crackers can outhit and outfield the Gulls but at the start of the campaign the hurlers were not working well and the result was a poor getaway. In the National league New York is only second in club batting and fourth in fielding. Philadelphia is both first in hitting and fielding, showing that the hurlers have not helped so much as in the National and Southern.

With this story is shown the leading hurlers in both the American and National leagues, this explaining why the leading teams are now so far in the lead.

Army and Navy Likely to Meet

High Officials Take Up Controversy and Will Arrange Grid Game

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—It took Secretary Daniels and Acting Secretary of War Beckenridge every few minutes to decide after they got in conference to take a hand in the settlement of the question as to whether there is to be an army-navy football game this fall. After a very brief conference they announced that they would ask the directors of the respective academic athletic associations to come to Washington Wednesday to discuss the situation.

Both army and navy officers here expressed the opinion that the game would be played as usual. It was pointed out that several times in past years similar situations have arisen, and that an agreement was finally reached.

Secretary Daniels received a telegram from Secretary Garrison, approving the proposed conference.

NAVY ALWAYS WILLING;
ARMY DID BUCKING.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 30.—A statement regarding the cancellation of the annual army-navy football game was issued by the executive committee of the Navy Athletic association.

The navy's attitude throughout," according to the statement, "has been a willingness to play the game at any point approximately midway between Annapolis and West Point, where a reasonable number of seats could be provided. Franklin field came nearest to fulfilling these needs."

The army had refused to play on Franklin field, Philadelphia, because of the limits of its seating capacity. The navy committee's reply to the army's suggestion that the game be played at the Polo Grounds, New York, was that "there seemed no justification for asking the midshipmen to spend sixteen hours en route during the day when the West Point cadets would spend only about four hours."

Welchonce Is Fighting Hard

The fight for the handsome diamond trophies offered the best base stealer, best pitcher and leading batter by Randolph Rose, of Chattanooga, ends with Labor day games on Monday, it having been stipulated that the race would end prior to the finish of the season so the trophies could be awarded before the last game has been finished.

Right now it is apparent that Clinton Prough, of Birmingham, has won the pitching medal with Clyde Wares, of Montgomery, leading in the race for the base stealing medal and the battle for batting honors between Dave Robertson, of Mobile, and Harry Welchonce, of Atlanta.

Prough practically cinched the pitching honor when he took Friday's game. He and Harry Covelesky, of Chattanooga, have been in a warm fight all season but the Pole was finally nosed out, *his de*feat the first of the week followed by Prough's win ending the race.

The prettiest match of all has been between Robertson and Welchonce for batting honors. Right now Robertson is just a few points in the lead with Welchonce coming fast. Robertson has fallen off a bit the past two games while Welchonce has gained. A couple of big days for the Cracker with Robertson slipping will give Harry the prize and rightfully so as he is the more hitter in the circuit.

Wares and Bob Messenger have been the main contestants in the battle for the base stealing honors. Wares came from behind during the past week and is now out in front with several bags to spare. It looks as if he will surely win.

CHANGES FOR JUST A DAY

The Crackers gained on the Gulls Friday. The Gulls failed as usual to drop out but the Crackers won two while they were only winning one and crawled up a half a game. There is now five and a half games separating the two teams.

For the second time of the series the Phillies slipped one over the Giants and gained a game on them. It gives the Phillies some consolation as well from the Giants even if they can't beat them to the pennant.

The Cubs won a game while Connie's men were not playing. That helped Cleveland a little.

Batting Figures

Nixon climbed several points *and Chap*man made a stab at the .300 mark and Donly missed it 3 points. Harry Welchonce raised his average a wee bit also. These figures include the double bill with the Pels Friday.

Morning Game On Labor Day With Pelicans

Morning Game Starts at 10:30 and Afternoon at 3:30—Both Games Are Needed to Boost Percentage

Monday is Labor day and will be a gala event at Ponce de Leon park. The festivities will be great on this, the season's last holiday. Two sacred games are scheduled and Billy Smith's crew is expected to offer the Pels as their sacrificial victim to appease the wrath of the fans.

Labor day will be New Orleans' last appearance of the season here. There will be no parade, so the crowd at the afternoon game should be the largest in point of attendance and enthusiasm that ever flooded the field. The morning game starts at 10:30 o'clock, while the afternoon battle will get under way at 3:30 o'clock.

This holiday will give the fans of Atlanta the chance of their lifetime to show Birmingham completely under in the attendance race. The drawing cards will be Gilbert Price and Carl Thompson, who will do duty twirl for the Crackers on this occasion. The teams will have had a Sunday's rest, and will be ready to furnish fast and sport. These Atlanta twirlers are going the best they know how at present and two shutouts for the Pels would not be a surprise. Wilson and Peddy will probably be Frank's choice for the mound battle.

Home-Run Won

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., Aug. 30.—Lawrenceville played in Monroe Thursday and defeated their fast team by the score of 7 to 3. It was a pretty game and was won when Paul Kelley knocked a home run with three men on bases.

Monroe	000	020	001—	3 7 2

Motor Races Are Not Run

The rain Friday afternoon wet the track and made racing *at the drome Fri*day night impossible. The races scheduled for Friday were held over and will be run next Friday night.

The proceeds from the evening will make up a purse which will be sent to Scotland for Jock McNeill's aged mother. No passes will be honored, the riders are even paying their way into the track and are offering their services to the management free. The track is in pretty good and a large crowd is expected to attend.

The next races at the drome will be run Monday night. A good program with an Australian pursuit race featuring has been arranged.

British Golf Star Won't Get Practice

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Abe Mitchell, *the famous English golfer, who is en*tered for both the national amateur and national open championship golf tournaments in the United States, will be handicapped by lack of practice for the first of these tournaments, which begins on Monday at Garden City, Long Island. Although still expected to be on hand when the tournament begins, he had not expected his arrival in this country up to today, so he will have no time to get in shape or to try out the strange courses.

Most of the competitors had arrived at Garden City and many of them have been at work all the week.

Victor Maude, of the Princess Golf club of England, arrived in America yesterday, along with Henry Leach and Bernard Darling, British golf authorities.

THE MACLIAN REQUIEM.

Out of the west the wild new came,
Flashed about on a wire of flame
"Macks club is in a slump!"—
"Five of his stars are wounded sore,
Something else has assailed six more,
Due for an awful bump."

Hark again to this tale of woe
Of a great ball club that was on the blow,
Facing an unkempt fate;
Battered and broken, almost in,
Alas, it was only able to win
About six out of eight.

We may be, in good part, for the home club. But not when Miner Brown is pitching against it. Not only is Brown deserving of Fate's best, but in addition a vote for Brown is a vote against Murphy. Which is enough.

SONG OF THE 19TH HOLE.

Sing a song of alibies
Out of jubilee;
Four and ninety golferines
Gathered by the tee;
When the tourney opened.
Hear the chatter swish
"I would have cracked the record
But I gutted like a fish."

BACK TO THE MAGNATES.

A ball player, working on a certain club—almost any club in the Big Show—is still good enough to stick in the Main Parade.

But the Magnateh of one reason or another, desires to crate him back to the bush. There are four or five or eight clubs that would like to secure his services. But the magnate, on the quiet puts it this way to his fellow magnates—"You lay off this man and I'll do the same for you." And the player is dropped. Yet there are those who say that there is no reason for a Ball Players' Fraternity—that the player has no kick. He not only has a kick, but a loud one, and when th crash comes you can bet your shoe strings that the magnate isn't going to win the battle —not with the taxpayers, the fans, working the other way.

The game is a good and clean one—on the playing field—but you can figure for yourself how clean it is at the top when such practices as the above are allowed to pass through. One can get by with anything for a certain spell—and then—well, when the answer arrives it is never indefinite or lacking in point.

We don't envy a lot of people their job next week—that of attempting to wrest the amateur golfing championship from Jerry Travers. It can be done, and it may be done within ten days or a week, but as an undertaking the task is worth its place.

Travers happens to carry the unique knack of being just as good as he has to be to win—no better and no worse. If it ever came down to holding out from the tee he might not come through but it would be worth even money that his shot would gim the cup.

Harry Varden did a 66 and a 67 at Mayfield, Cleveland. But Johnson wasn't in the box.

Nor was McLoughlin serving at the moment.

Still, a 66 and a 67 in one day would indicate that while still a trifle wobbly on his sea legs the veteran Englishman was slowly but surely edging back to the game. We have done worse than 66 when we felt that we were fairly near the summit of our game.

Crandall Deal Was Frame-Up

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—People well informed on baseball, it is said, have learned that the deal involving Larry McLean in exchange for Otis Crandall, put through recently by the Giants and Cardinals, was merely a blind by which the Giants could get McLean for a cash consideration without involving a storm of adverse criticism on the part of the St. Louis fans.

This is given color by the fact that Crandall was turned back to the Giants for no immediate consideration, it being announced that he returned for "cash and a player to be delivered when the Giants have the pennant cinched."

People connected with the New York club have let slip the information that the Cardinals have been in a bad way financially this year and were in need of immediate assistance.

Langford Booked To Fight Johnson

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—Sam Langford, negro heavyweight, is to meet Jack Johnson, heavyweight champion of the world, in a bout for the title in Paris December 20. Arrangements for the match were completed by cable today, according to Joe Woodman, manager of Langford.

The bout is to be of twenty rounds and will be staged in the Cirque De Paris, under the direction of Theodore Vienne. Langford is guaranteed a lump sum and a percentage of the receipts for his appearance, Woodman says.

The Boston heavyweight was defeated by Johnson seven years ago and has been seeking another bout with the champion since. Johnson's reported need of money and the fact that proposed bouts with white men in Paris and London have been frowned upon are the reasons, in Woodman's opinion, that resulted in the match being made.

A Pitchers' Battle

REYNOLDS, Ga., Aug. 30.—Reynolds defeated East Point on the home diamond here, the score being 4 to 1, in one of the prettiest games ever seen on the local diamond. The batteries were Pickard and Wise for East Point, and Green and Palmer for Reynolds.

Green, for the locals, pitched a magnificent game, striking out thirteen of the heavy hitting East Pointers, and gave up only four hits. The features of the game were the first base playing and heavy hitting of Abercrombie, the second base playing of Griffin, and the fielding of Owen, in left field, who is the best persimmon hunter in Georgia. Knight, shortstop, got a pretty hit which scored the first two runs for Reynolds. Abercrombie also got a two-bagger and a single. Griffin got two singles, and Green cinched his own game with a hit to right field. Palmer also got a beautiful hit.

Waycross Gets Game

WAYCROSS, Ga., Aug. 30.—Waycross had its last baseball for this season here Friday. Waycross defeated the Homerville team insisted on playing, by farce out of the second game, which the Homerville team insisted on playing by scoring a bunch of runs in the first inning. The first game was a fairly good one, despite the glaring errors of Homerville, who were given their first game on a laegue diamond. Kid Blanton, of Boston, pitched the first game for Homerville, and allowed only two safe hits.

The work of excavating the new Yale field of 100 acres at New Haven for the stadium is now in progress. The stadium is to be so big that all records for attendance at an American football game will go by the board when it is opened for its first game.

IS INJURED

Matt McGrath, one of the ideal American athletes, who has won honors in two Olympaids, and former champion hammer thrower of the world, will probably never again show his old form on the field. He was attacked by five men in a New York theater roof garden the other evening. Five men might have thought their fists were sufficient to subdue him. But they didn't. One of them struck him on the eye with a cane, and as a result, the surgeons think he will be blind. McGrath has the satisfaction of knowing that his assailants were held by the courts.

Moffett Won't Be A Dixie Manager

ROME, Ga., Aug. 30.—Frank Moffett, the manager of the Knoxville baseball team in the Appalachian league, strenuously denies the report in an Atlanta afternoon paper to the effect that he was seeking admission to the Dixie league next year. "I am too old a head to buck organized baseball," is the way that Moffett puts it.

The Atlanta report declared that Moffett was making overtures to secure the franchise that had been allotted to Shreveport. He insists, however, that he is well satisfied with the Appalachian league. It is probable that the circuit will be reorganized for the coming season, and it may be increased to eight clubs. The Knoxville team has a fine chance for the pennant for the second half of the season, which closes on September 3. Knoxville is one game behind Morristown. Johnson City won the first half of the season, and will contest with the winner of the second half in a post-season series.

English Golf Cracks Win Amateur Match

KENOSHA, Wis., Aug. 30.—Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, the British golfers on the Kenosha course, defeated R. P. Cavanaugh, C. C. Allen and James Anderson, a trio of local amateurs. The final score was four up to the 18 holes. The champions had a best ball of 64 for the 18 holes, but the amateurs were but four strokes behind them. Vardon led in the medal score with a 67, three under par, and 12 under bogey. Ray was one stroke higher.

Maysville Gets Game

JEFFERSON, Ga., Aug. 29.—In a ten-inning game here Tuesday between Jefferson and Maysville some good ball was witnessed, Maysville getting away with the big end of the 6 to 5 score.

The batteries were Collier and Branch for Jefferson and Ellison and Barber for Maysville. The features of the game was the work of the two hurlers. The twirlers also batted well, Ellison getting three hits and Collier two, one of which was a homer, which tallied four runs and the other a two-base hit, which scored the last run for the home club.

Mize for Maysville also featured in his active work at third base.

TWO REAL WHITE HOPES AND THEY SHOW WEAK

White hope.

If those two words didn't stop you, the ultimate worst in our vocabulary will not make you bat an eye. It is our purpose to discuss this class so we stuck the label at the top and gave you warning sufficient to all reasonable men.

Muddled is a confusing word, and it truly expresses the state of the class. But according to our view two men stand out with prospects of soon developing into the best in their division. They are Al Palzer, the Iowa farmer, and Carl Morris, the Oklahoma oil driller.

Licked? Sure, both have been licked on numerous and divers occasions. Jim Flynn, Pueblo fireman, decisively beat Morris and Flynn is a simon pure second rater. Gunboat Smith beat Palzer. And the late lamented Luther McCarty knocked out both.

But what does this signify? As long as Old Age, the champion of all classes and phases, has not put his clammy hands on either, they still have a chance provided they do not get otherwise mutilated physically.

History proves this. Didn't Kid Napoleon come back from Elba, while still in the prime of his manhood? Cy Falkenburg from Toledo? Rube Kissinger while with the Turtles? and Roughhouse Sulla and Battling Marius make ancient Rome a race track for their dozen or more comebacks? Consult a revised Ridpath in 1915, and all this history will appear. Part appears in the 1910 models.

Getting down to cases, it looks like Palzer and Morris have everything to start with. They possess size, courage, willingness and a desire for the coin, which, by the way, seems to be the only incentive for fighting many white hopes have. Added to this they are taking the route just as it comes. They meet all comers and are willing to give anybody the once over in the ring.

Lately both have been improving fast. Palzer is beating second raters up around New York, while Morris has cleaned out the middle west, beating Joe Cox, Kinkdon Belmont and a horde of other sorry heavies, who, however, are about as good as Charley Miller, George Rodel or many of the other heavies now getting their names sent over the telegraph wires.

BOTH WELL BUILT.

Morris weighs about 240 pounds in trim and is perfect man; Palzer weighs 220 and the same P. M. said about Morris goes for him. All these men need is knowledge of the boxing game and then they will be right at the top of the ladder. And they are fast gaining that knowledge, too.

On past performances Gunboat Smith and Jess Willard, the Kansas cowboy, are the best. But that old past performance will not stand the onrush of the future. It is from the past. The present always has its hands full taking care of itself.

In the lingo of the ring, Morris and Palzer are what might be called dubs, just now. We recall, however, when Champion Jack Johnson was a worse dub than either. Jack about twelve years ago used to hang around the boxing clubs in New Orleans and Memphis. He seldom got a fight, but earned his living by receiving $1 a round to let Kid McCoy, Abe Ruef, Jim Corbett and other stars bat him around the ring until they became tired. He learned how to fight by first being a human punching bag.

This policy is practically the same used by Palzer and Morris. They have more to start with than the Galveston coon had. So how can it be figured, they haven't the same chance to reach the height of the ladder.

As a final windup let us repeat again, these men are game. Just now courage is a rare thing among the heavies. Not naming any names, but a man named Burns pilots a man whose courage is seriously questioned, and the tallest heavyweight in the ring once quit when being beaten by a fourth rater. The latter recently figured in an unfortunate affair at Los Angeles, the former in one at Calgary.

FEW BOXING PLACES.

Mention of Calgary and Los Angeles calls our attention to the tragedies enacted at those two places within the past few months. The boxing game as a national sport is now staggering and gasping under these two calamities.

Not that those happenings are liable to kill the game except in California, but that the death of the game in California means paralysis for it practically the world over.

With the abolition of California's twenty-round bouts, where would championship matches be held? The answer is not known. The only places left is Greenland and Tahiti, figuratively speaking. And it is a well known fact that no champion is going to risk his title without having a big house to pay for seeing said risk taken.

With no champions the boxing game would be practically dead. There would be no way to judge the status of a fighter, and it is a well known fact the public always likes to see something at stake. They love to think the boxer is ambitious and striving to rise at the top.

The death of John "Bull" Young at the hands of Jess Willard has started redoubled activity on the part of Californians to kill the game. The initiative is in force in that state and petitions are being circulated now asking the legislature to pass an anti-boxing bill. These petitions are being widely signed, too, according to telegraph report. Last winter the game had a narrow shave out there. It is feared that Young's death may be the hair that broke the camel's back.

Safest In Using GOLF Longer Sticks

In my experience watching various classes of golfers in action for a number of years, I feel that I am safe in saying that more than half of the strokes lost were caused by taking the eye of the ball or pressing with a short club. I have already briefly referred to the necessity of keeping the eye on the ball, and today will consider this other important factor.

Nearly every golfer likes to equal the performances of some other player who gets 160 and 170 yards with his mashie or who takes out a jigger or midiron for a full up to 200 yards. There is a certain amount of foolish pride in such performances, and the effort to equal them leads to serious difficulties.

We all know that the average player is short far oftener than up or over, while an expert, amateur and professional, is always up and more often just over the green than just short of it. When I first commenced to follow matches between experts I remember how it seemed to me that nearly every approach was going to be a trifle over the mark.

The golf as played by the average player there are so many elements that tend to prevent the shot attaining the expected length that it is best to have the convenient margin of safety represented in using a midiron or jigger when in doubt or lifting up with a mashie.

If the average player will utilize the margin of his score card to keep a record of the number of times in a round when he is short on his approaches and short on his approach putts he will be amazed at the result, and the point I wish to make will be clearly brought home to him.

I know a man who has been playing at golf for upward of ten years who has got a habit of always being short that he seldom gets under 80, when if he always got up he unquestionably would get down into the lower eighties once in a while.

Every approach shot with him is underclubbed. He hits at the ball with a mashie when he might use a midiron, and a midiron when he should use a cleek or brassie, and the ball always brings up short of the green by anywhere from five to twenty yards.

Nothing short of an accident such as a bad lie, or, even gets his ball on the green beyond the cup. It would seem as if he was always afraid that danger lurked at the far side of the hole or green. I have shown him that there is no more trouble playing back than always forward to no purpose. He will be hopeless until he gets over being greedy.

By putting a dot on the right opposite the score for each hole for every green where you are short on the approach, and a dot to the left for every approach putt that does not get up to the tin, you will rapidly learn that you can never score well until you cure this serious fault.

"Oregon Kid" Winner In Power Boat Race

KEOKUK, Iowa, Aug. 30.—The Webb trophy carrying a first prize of $1,000 and possession of the trophy for one year, together with the championship of the Mississippi Valley Power Boat association, was won by "Oregon Kid." The boat is owned and driven by S. F. Block, of Portland, Ore. The time for the twenty miles was 26:18. The "Kid" was not pushed to win.

Barnacle, owned by Adam Weikler, of Chicago, twice took fire, but finished third with Hydro-Bullet second. Earl Deakin was taken from the latter in the third lap, after being injured when the boat capsized. C. H. Hanley, of Muscatin, newly elected admiral of the association, then took the wheel and brought the boat in second.

Griffin Gets Win

NIAGARA-ON-LAKE, Ontario, Aug. 30.—Griffin, the California crack, defeated Baird, the Canadian champion, in the semi-finals of the men's singles of the international tennis tournament here. The score was 3-6, 8-6, 6-3. In the same event Whitney, New York, beat Johnston, California, 6-2, 6-3.

WORLD'S VISIBLE SUPPLY STATEMENT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton made up from special cable and telegraphic advices compares as follows with this week with last week, last year and the year before. It shows a decline for the week just closed of 11,717, against an increase of 17,000 last year and a decrease of 9,925 year before last.

The total visible is 2,055,183, against 2,066,900 last week, 2,118,191 last year and 1,990,233 year before last. Of this the total of American cotton is 1,000,183, against 975,900 last week, 1,342,180 last year and 829,233 year before last, and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 1,055,000, against 1,090,900 last week, 776,000 last year and 771,000 year before last.

The total world's visible supply of cotton as above shows a decrease compared with last week of 11,717, a decrease compared with last year of 63,008 and an increase compared with year before last of 454,945.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton as above there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe, 1,080,000, against 1,261,000 last year and 880,000 year before last; in Egypt 65,000, against 32,000 last year and 42,000 year before last; in India 310,000, against 400,000 last year and 422,000 year before last; in the United States 500,20, against 565,000 last year and 256,000 year before.

WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The cotton market has been very active during the past week, with prices making new high records, owing to continued unfavorable crop reports and a broadening demand for long account. The highest level was reached on Thursday, following a report from Washington that the cotton futures annendment to the tariff bill would probably be materially modified by a reduction in the proposed tax, and while there was heavy realizing for the Labor day adjournment, the close today was within 15 or 20 points of the best. The continued dry, hot weather in the south west seems to have been largely responsible for the reduction in estimates of the crop. Private condition figures issued over the week have indicated a falling off in the prospect of about one point during August, thus suggesting a government report at noon next Tuesday of between 69 and 70 per cent. Such a condition would compare with 79 ½ last month, 74.8 in 1912, 73.2 in 1911, and a ten-year average of 74.7 per cent. According to a statement recently published by Washington authorities, a condition of 100 at the date of the September bureau would indicate a crop of under 14,000 bales on this year's estimated area of 35,622,000 acres. Many local bulls seemed inclined to admit that the advance of the week had prepared the speculative trade for a low September figure, but based their predictions of still higher prices on the ground that the week's spinners had not yet accepted the reduced views of the crop, and were but poorly provided against the prospective needs. Expectations that further evidences of a disappointing crop might bring manufacturers in the market consequently seemed to be one of the chief inspirations on the bull side, while bearish operators were taking a reduced short interest in preference to crop movement, and still contended that large eastern belt crops would partly offset western belt deterioration.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

Bradstreet's Review says:

In some respects trade reports suggest somewhat more irregularity. Western advices indicate conservative buying, presumably a reflex of reports of reduced crop yields, but at the same time they point to the fact that trade is equal to or in excess of that done at this time last year, when operations certainly were growing. On the other hand, the more important eastern markets, particularly those having to do with textiles, display more activity, some trade has enlarged and sales, instead of making concessions, are insisting upon higher prices.

Incidentally there are few dissenting notes as to the outlook for fall trade and advices as to low stocks as well as high values of goods. Before stated, conservatism is likely to be practiced in actions where crops fall short of calling expectations.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week aggregate 7,042,180 bushels, against 3,540,134 last year.

INTERESTING NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE MARKETS

Weather Reports, Crop Advices, Expert Opinions and Newspaper Comment

GRAIN GOSSIP

Chicago Inter Ocean says: Wheat is regarded as a rule by most traders; bears seem confident of lower prices, while the bulls are not looking for prices to do any better until liquidation is over. It looks to some of the best corn traders as if the market has grown stale for the time being, and that it should have a good break.

Kansas City says corn and wheat region bullish shows no rain in Kansas nor Missouri nor Oklahoma. Temperatures in Kansas 92 to 99, Oklahoma 94 to 99; Missouri 91 to 97.

Bartlett, Frazier & Co. say:

Wheat—Look for a steady market, though much depends on the volume of liquidation still to take place in the September delivery. We are of the opinion that a good part of such liquidation has already been accomplished.

Corn—We continue to advise purchases on all little setbacks.

Oats—The market is showing a somewhat firmer undertone, which would indicate that liquidation has been quite thorough.

Provisions—We rather incline to think that prices have had break enough.

Chicago—Local traders have been big buyers of corn; selling scattered.

Grain for the week:

Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Kansas—Generally fair tonight and Sunday, except showers and cooler.

Ohio—Wet tonight and Sunday, probably cooler.

Armour Grain company buying December wheat; selling scattered.

Omaha bulletin says no rain; highest temperature at Fairbury, 97.

Primary estimates of corn crop of six states as follows: Illinois, 325,000,000 versus 426,000,000 last year; Iowa, 350,000,000 versus 452,000,000 last year; Missouri, 155,000,000 versus 243,000,000 last year; Nebraska, 140,000,000 versus 182,000,000 last year; Kansas, 40,000,000 versus 174,000,000 last year; Oklahoma, 40,000,000 versus 100,000,000 last year.

Think wheat, corn and oats a purchase.—Rycroft.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast till 7 p. m. Sunday:

Atlanta and Vicinity—Fair tonight and Sunday.

Georgia—Local showers tonight or Sunday.

Alabama—Fair in north, showers in south portion tonight or Sunday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Showers occurred in the eastern portion of the cotton belt during the past 24 hours, as well as on the north Atlantic coast. The following large amounts were received: Wilmington, 2.04 inches; Washington, 1.44, and Baltimore 1.26. The weather remains generally clear over much of the country under the influence of several slight barometric depressions, one in the St. Lawrence valley, another in Manitoba, and a third in southern Arizona.

Temperatures in the east are slightly lower but continue above 90 degrees in the Texas-Oklahoma district. The only temperatures reported in Colorado, with 48 degrees at Durango.

LONDON STOCKS.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The attendance on the stock exchange was small and business was of a holiday character. A few investment orders hardened consols and first-class bonds, but speculative issues were neglected. Mexican stocks were fractionally lower.

Trading in the American section was dull, owing to the holiday in Wall street. The market reopened a fraction easier, but later sold off on lack of support. The close was dull, with prices 1/8 to ¼ lower than yesterday's New York closing.

WEEKLY STOCK REVIEW

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—All other considerations influencing speculation were subordinated this week to the reactions between this country and Mexico, and fluctuations of stocks corresponded to the tenor of the news concerning this situation. The relief effect of this uncertainty was restricted trading. No market weakness developed and toward the close of the week when the street reached the opinion that the outlook was definitely better, prices moved upward and business increased.

Reports regarding the damage to cotton from drouth were pessimistic. July railroad statements disclosed several heavy decreases in net earnings among the large roads. Strength of copper stocks was due to optimistic reports from the copper trade and advancing prices of the metal.

Money market conditions remained favorable. Strong statements were made by the foreign bank and the allotment of $46,000,000 to southern and western banks was announced by the treasury department. Little fear was felt of a money stringency during the crop moving season.

WHEAT IN CHICAGO WAS FIRM AT THE OPENING

Wheat Advanced 1-4 to 3-8c, Corn Firm–Oats, Pork, Lard and Sides Steady

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Corn strengthened today on higher cables, estimates that the year's crop will be 488,000,000 bushels less than last year's and covering by shorts in anticipation of the double holiday. Opened ⅛ to ¼ higher with September at 72⅝@72¾, and December at 68⅜@68⅝ to 68¾. After September had touched 73 and December 69¼, there was a reaction on profit taking to 72⅜ for the former, and 68⅛@68¼ for the latter.

A good buying spurt again lifted corn. Closed very strong with September at 72⅞, a net gain of ⅝, and December at 69¼ to 69⅝@69¾, a net gain of ⅝@⅝ to ⅝@⅝.

In wheat there was much changing from September to December, the near month opening ⅝@⅞ lower at 85½ to 85⅝ and the deferred option a shade off to ⅛@⅜c up, at 89½ to 89¾, a range which held unchanged for most of the session. Cash sales and forecast for next session were quiet.

Wheat later became very dull. Closed firm, September ⅛@⅜ net higher, 85⅞ and December at 89¼ to 89½@89¾.

Oats trade was light and values after an early advance were some. December started ⅛ higher at 43½, rose ⅝ and went to 43⅝@43¾c.

Provisions opened irregular, 5c lower to a shade up. Most of the business was in changing from one option to another. First prices for January were: Pork $19.57½; lard, $10.92½@10.95; ribs, $10.32½@10.35.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

Scarcity of Eggs and Poultry

BOTH eggs and poultry are probably scarcer this season than has ever been known before in this section of the country, and from present indications it looks like eggs will sell for 60c per dozen this winter, that is strictly firstclass fresh eggs.

The people in most of the large cities of the south have become educated to know what good eggs and good chickens are, and there are always plenty customers who are willing to pay a premium over the regular market price for both eggs and fowls of quality, and at present it is almost impossible to get a supply of fresh eggs of known quality of any kind even at 35c and 40c per dozen, which many customers are now paying for these products.

The high price of meat throughout the United States has caused a great demand for both poultry and eggs, as they are the cheapest product now sold on the market that is anything like a substitute for fresh meats. Another reason why both poultry and eggs are scarce is because many shippers have sent away from Georgia to the eastern markets, thousands of dozens of eggs and chickens on account of the high price paid for the past two years. Hundreds of people have quit raising chickens, and they have not been produced enough for the demands during the past two years, or nothing like enough to supply the every day demand for them. The bad weather conditions throughout the entire south last year and a good part of this year has killed and destroyed thousands of little chickens and they were not produced in such quantities as they have been in previous years.

Many various things have kept down the production of these articles of food and the consumption being much greater than it has ever been before, it has brought about this state of affairs, and the people who have not plenty fresh eggs and healthy poultry for their own use should by all means prepare themselves now to be supplied during the coming winter.

Every early hatched pullet that can be had should be forced and put in laying condition as early as possible, and the same thing should be done with grown fowls. They should be forced through the molt and get them back to laying just as soon as it can possibly be done before cold weather at least. This should be done and put yourself in position to have eggs during the winter, as you can rest assured that they will certainly be high and scarce.

The man who has a large number of fowls to sell will find himself with something worth having and that he can turn into cash in a moment, and many who do not believe now that there is a scarcity of poultry will find it out before the winter is over.

The larger part of live poultry throughout Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, and some of the other western states has been sold or killed on account of the dry weather, and for want of water in these four states that producers will not be in position to furnish these proudcts in great quantities for at least a year or so to come.

Therefore it will have some effect on the market, and the people who have sufficient quantity of fowls to take care of their own needs this coming winter are very fortunate. You can well afford to feed and house them well as the hen that lays two dozen eggs per month for you will earn from 70c to a $1.00 every month for the next six or eight months at least, and you can readily see what a good investment a little hen is that can do this work for you.

Little do we realize or stop to think what it means to have a short crop of poultry and eggs, and when one has them we readily see what the results will be, and from all reports received from many sections of the country the poultry crop this season is one of the shortest that has been known in years. And the man who has been successful this season should congratulate himself and should leave nothing undone to have comfortable houses and have plenty good feed to make them produce eggs for you during the coming fall and winter, as fowls are selling now in years, both for fancy and commercial, and the man who has stuck to the poultry business has better prospects before him at present than I have known for many years.

Yours very truly,

Geo. L. Rainey

If you plant bulbs get your stock from Hastings and know you are getting the best.

THE BEST authorities on poultry raising claim that hens should be fed very little grain during the molt and that wheat is the very best feed during the moulting season. The NEWS of REAL ESTATE

West Peachtree, Jackson Street and Bedford Place Residences Bring From $8,250 to $10,000 – Spring Street Sale at $200 a Foot, Drewry Street and Other Residence Sales – Luckie Street Sale–Farm Auction a Big Success

THREE residence sales at around $10,000 each and a number of smaller transactions representing homes and investments were announced today.

W. D. Owens has sold to James Sharp No. 854 West Peachtree street, a residence on a lot 40x200, for $10,000. This property is on the west side of the street beginning 399 feet south of Eighteenth street.

Bedford Place Sales.

Two sales on Bedford Place of brick veneer residences were also announced today. They were made by the R. O. Cochran company through H. W. Grant of that agency.

He sold for J. W. Gresham, of Griffin, to Mrs. Eloise Farra, the southeast corner of Bedford Place and Fifth street, a two-story brick veneer residence on a lot 60x120. The price was $9,800.

The other sale was of No. 287 Bedford Place, adjoining the corner of Fourth street. This is a nineroom, two story buff brick veneered house on a lot 55x123. The price was $9,250. Mr. Gresham was the owner of this also. The purchaser was H. D. Newman.

W. R. Turman, of the Turman, Black and Calhoun agency, has bought from Mrs. Farmer No. 507 North Jackson street, a nine-room, two-story house on a lot 50x150, for $8,250.

Spring Street Sale.

John D. Babbage has sold No. 228 Spring street, a lot 25x98, with a small dwelling, for $5,000, or at the rate of $200 a front foot. This lot is between Simpson street and West Peachtree Place.

Other Real Estate Sales.

W. L. and John O. DuPree have sold for John M. George to R. A. Agnew, No. 39 Drewry street, a seven-room bungalow on a lot 50x182 to an alley, for $6,250.

Other Real Estate Sales.

The H. W. Dews agency has sold for A. H. Bailey to Mrs. Annie S. Brown No. 209 Oak street, a six-room house, for $4,500.

Mr. Dews bought from I. N. Brown a residence on a lot 100x200 on Boulevard DeKalb, in Kirkwood, for $4,750.

J. F. Mayfield of the Harris White agency, sold for Mrs. M. F. Huggins to Mrs. Fannie Treadwell, W. E. Treadwell and S. W. Carson No. 313 Luckie street, a two-story, ten-room house on a lot 46x100 for $6,450, taking Smyrna property valued at $4,000 as part payment.

W. R. Turman, of the Turman, Black & Calhoun agency has sold for Mr. Benteen to R. A. Costley, lot 13, on Benteen street, near the McDonough road, for $700, and for Mr. McCollum to J. A. Williams a lot on Lakewood avenue at Lakewood Heights for $550.

The Carpenter & Son agency has sold to A. S. Andrews a lot in Eagan Park, for C. A. Martin to J. S. Clay a lot on corner of Metropolitan avenue and Flat Shoals road for the purpose of building the Christian church, for $2,000 cash; a house and lot for H. A. Etheridge to J. R. Hanbrick, at 32 Patterson avenue, for $1,500.

FARM AUCTION SUCCESS.

Farm lands are bound to be in big demand from now on because of the large crop yield this year and the high prices prevailing for farm products.

The Edwin P. Ansley auction sale of Dakota farms in Turner county was an eye-opener and is a fair forecast of activity that may be expected henceforth.

The auction which was held last Thursday, brought a total of $112,000. Over 1,000 people attended, of which 200 were active bidders. Forty of the farms were sold in twenty-five minutes. J. Hope Turner was in charge of the sale.

The land was sold in tracts of 26 to 100 acres and on the easy terms of 10 per cent cash. The land is not only fertile, but is traversed by some fine highways.

PROSPECTIVE BUSINESS.

There are some fairly large sales in process of being made and two leases have reached the stage where they can be safely announced in the next few days.

Inquiries have picked up wonderfully during the past week, and while agents are not making actual sales in proportion to the number of properties they show, still they are kept busy trying to supply the wants of their customers.
